MEXICO EXPECTS REBEL OUTBREAKS

Troops Rushed to Border Yesterday to Prevent Serious Trouble.

AN ATTACK WAS FRUSTRATED

Many Citizens Pressed Into Service and Armed to Protect Government Funds—Outbreak Feared at a Dozen Places.

El Paso, Texas, June 21.—Although the expected attack on the Mexican Custom House at Naco, Sonora, Mexico, was frustrated today by the arrival of soldiers from Cananea, the entire Mexican border from Cananea to Coudad Porfiro Diaz, opposite Eagle Pass, Texas ,is in a state of revolutionary foment and outbreaks are feared at a dozen places.

All available Mexican troops have been detailed along the border with orders to suppress all disturbance with an iron hand.

Many citizens have been pressed into service and armed to protect government funds at the customs houses along the border.

The troops sent from Cananea are quartered in the warehouse of the Cananea Copper Company and are making preparations for an extended stay. Two hundred additional troops are held in readiness at Cananea to march to Naco at a moment's notice. Commissario Cubillas has purchased all available armor at Naco, Arizona, and he has assumed command of a body of citizens to protect the town.

Reinforcements have been received by Col. Kosterlitzky, in command at Cananea. He has spread details of troops along the border to intercept smuggled arms and has ordered houses searched for arms in all the northern villages.

Three burroes were seized by masked men in the United States side of the border Sunday night and loaded with ammunition, which was carried across the border in the San Jose mountains. A squad of rural police are in pursuit of the party.

Series of disturbances are reported to have taken place at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, State of Coahuila, hence the revolutionary leaders have fled to Eagle Pass, Texas.

It is expected by Mexican officers that newspapers printed in Spanish on the American side of the border have been a large factor in stirring up discontent.

The movement has been singularly free from expressions of animosity to Americans.

THE LORIMER BRIBERY.

Committee Named for the Congressional Investigation.

Washington, June 21.—Chairman Burrows, of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections today named the sub-committee which is to investigate the charges of bribery in connection with the election of Senator Lorimer, of Illinois. The committee is composed of Senators Burrows, Dillingham, Gamble, Heyburn, Frazier, Paynter and Johnston.

London, June 21.—A warrant was issued in London today for the arrest of Porter Charlton, whose wife, Mary Scott Castle Charlton, was murdered and her body thrown into Lake Como, after having been placed in a trunk. The issuance of a warrant followed a request made by the Italian government which hold opinion that Charlton is hiding in England.

Washington, June 21.—Representative Morris Sheppard, of Texas, has a bil that he wants Congress to pass before it adjourns. The bill gives the Postmaster General the right to use aeroplanes in carrying mail throughout the country. Representative Sheppard is anxious that Congress give the Postmaster General a sum of money to purchase aeroplanes, secure men to operate them and carry on a general school of education for mail carriers.

HEAT WAVE FATAL FOR TEN PERSONS

Torrid Weather Resulted in Deaths in Philadelphia Yesterday.

SMASHING THE JUNE RECORD

Prostrations in Large Cities Were Numerous—Country East of Rocky Mountains in Its Grasp—Not in New York.

Philadelphia, June 21.—Ten deaths and many prostrations were reported as due to the excessive heat here today. The maximum temperature was 92 degrees at 15 minutes after 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Washington, June 21.—Everywhere east of the Rocky Mountains the country is in the grasp of a heat wave which is smashing June records and promises to continue with no relief in sight. Unless some disturbance turns up in the atmosphere wiseacres expect the nigh temperatures to continue, though they may be lessened from time to time by local showers.

The weather bureau's official thermometer shaded by trees on the street level here in Pennsylvania avenue, registered 100 degrees at 2 o'clock this afternoon. It registered more than 80 early in the day and climbed steadily until the top notch was touched and then it began to recede slowly.

New York, June 21.—Hapless New Yorkers sizzled and sweltered today while the mercury climbed steadily until it attained a maximum of 90 degrees by official readings at 3:45 P. M., a high mark for the year. Thermometers on the street ranged as high as 98 and three deaths directly due to the heat were recorded. More than 30 persons were prostrated.

Excessive humidity added to the tortures of the year's hottest day.

In the congested residence districts the suffering was intense and hospital ambulances were kept busy caring for the stricken. In Bayonne, N. J., five men were prostrated, two of whom are expected to die.

At Mineola, L. I., during a parade and contest of Long Island volunteer firemen, half a dozen firemen were overcome and several spectators were prostrated. Another hot day is predicted for tomorrow.

JUDGE ALLEN ENDORSED.

Enthusiastic Meeting at Lumberton—Water Test—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., June 21.—An enthusiastic meeting of citizens was held today for the purpose of endorsing the candidacy of Judge W. R. Allen for Supreme Court Judge. Mr. C. B. Townsend was made chairman of the meeting and Mr. R. C. Lawrence acted as secretary. Judge Allen is a great favorite with our people and will receive a large vote.

The testing of the water pressure at 2:30 this afternoon drew a large crowd, and while the results were much better than many people expected, it was not considered satisfactory. Six streams were used as a test, and while four streams would do good work, six could not be depended on to give satisfactory service in case of a big fire.

We understand that early tomorrow morning Mr. G. B. McLeod will send out a reply in pamphlet form to the interview of Messrs. Patterson and Lawrence, which appeared in Sunday's issue of the Star.

Messrs. Townsend Bros. have made a deal with Mr. H. Dunie by which they will occupy the store for several years occupied by him, and he will occupy the one next to McMillan's drug store, formerly occupied by the Jenrette-Singletary Company, who sold out some time ago to Messrs. Townsend Bros. By this change they will occupy the two stores adjoining each other. Heretofore Mr. Dunie has been located between Messrs. Townsend Bros. stores, but now he is between them and the drug store. The stocks have already been transferred.

DEFRAUDED OF $600,000.

Charge of Illinois Central Against Blue Island Car Company.

Chicago, June 21.—Charges of graft are made in a petition for receiver filed today by the Illinois Central Railroad Company, against the Blue Island Car and Equipment Company. Judge Windes appointed the Chicago Title and Trust Company receiver.

Other defendants named in the petition are: J. E. Buker, William Renshaw, O. S. Keith and J. M. Taylor, all formerly holding positions with the Illinois Central and H. C. Ostermann and F. H. Niles.

The petition charges that the Blue Island Car and Equipment Company has no assets other than those out of which the Illinois Central has been defrauded. It is charged that Ostermann and Miles conspired with Buker and the others named to form a corporation, the car and equipment concern, to defraud the railroad. Later the business was turned over to a company known as the F. H. Niles & Co., the latter later changing its name to the Blue Island Rolling Mill & Car Co.

The bill charges that the Blue Island Rolling Mill & Car Company, owes the Illinois Central $600,000 and is without adequate assets.

BANK BILL VOTE IN SENATE TODAY

Action on Administration Measure is Awaited With Much Interest.

REGULARS WON A VICTORY

Successfully Resisted Onslaught Upon House Measure—No New Amendments—Attacked by Senators Bacon and Percy.

Washington, June 21.—Agreeing to vote at 5 o'clock tomorrow on the Carter motion to concur in the House Postal Savings Bank bill, the Senate adjourned at 6 o'clock tonight, after a day devoted largely to an onslaught upon the House measure.

A number of amendments were offered but the "Old Guard" of the regulars was on duty and each assault was successfully resisted, the majority ranging from six to eight votes. Word was circulated early in the session that the President desired the House bill and the message undoubtedly had an influence in maintaining the measure intact.

All the amendments were directed to the section of the House bill relating to the deposit and withdrawal of the postal bank funds by the government. The general contention was that the House bill contemplated the withdrawal of the funds from the local banks for transference to the large Eastern banks and to the National Treasury while it was urged that the Senate bill would hold the money at the home banks except in case of war or other contingency.

The first of the amendments disposed of was offered by Senator Bacon, and provided for the striking out of the provision authorizing the use of the postal bank deposits for the purchase of bonds. Supporting his own amendment, Mr. Bacon declared that the provision of the House is but an entering wedge in the interest of the great central bank. He said that the financiers of Wall Street could have written nothing more to their own liking.

Mr. Percy took advantage of the opportunity to make a general speech charging the Postoffice Department with false economy in failing to increase the rural free delivery service to meet the demands of the country. Incidentally he charged that the political power of the Postoffice Department is being vastly increased to the detriment of the country.

The amendment was voted down by a majority of six, as was the next amendment, which was offered by Mr. Cummins and which required that depositories should be selected in accordance with a general rule.

ARRESTED AT CHADBOURN.

White Man Charged With Elopement Wanted at Maxton, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Maxton, N. C., June 21.—"Charlie" Johnson, who is wanted in Maxton for eloping with Annie Butler, near Red Springs, is under arrest at Chadbourn, N. C. At 5:30 this afternoon the chief of police received a telegram from Chadbourn asking instructions. The authorities were notified to hold him and a deputy will be sent for him at once. Nothing was said about the whereabouts of Miss Butler.

Warrenton, Va., June 21.—Mrs. Florence Spillman Fraizer, wife of Dr. Robert Fraizer, one of the best known educators in Virginia, and formerly United States Consul at Palermo, Italy, died here today. She was a sister of Mrs. F. R. Boston, Miss Clora Spillman and H. C. Spillman, of this place.

Lexington, Va., June 21.—This was alumni day at Virginia Military Institute. Among distinguished visitors were Gov. Mann and Sir Moses Ezekiel. FIGHT OF CENTURY FOR RENO, NEVADA

Promoter Decides Upon Scene For Jeffries-Johnson Battle.

NO INTERFERENCE ASSURED

Rickard Made Final Statement Giving Definite Plans Yesterday—Fighters Will Move Camps Within Few Days—Arrangements.

Reno, Nev., June 21.—With Reno definitely fixed as the battleground, with assurance from Gov. Dickerson that no attempt to interfere will be made by the State authorities and with preparations already under way for building the arena, the Jeffries and Johnson fight seems certain of fulfillment on July 4.

The selection of a site for staging the big fight was made this afternoon. It is a rocky field in East Reno, about a mile and a half from the heart of the city. It is familiar in ring history as the scene of the Hart and Root contest of July 4th, 1906. It is regarded as an ideal place as it affords plenty of ground for a specious structure.

Contractor McLaughlin went over the place today with Rickard and the Reno fight committee and immediately began to carry out plans already prepared for the construction of the arena.

A building about 300 feet square, modeled along the lines of the structure begun in San Francisco, will be put up. It is hoped to have it completed by the first of next month.

Another selection made this afternoon was training quarters for Jack Johnson. Tom Flanagan, the champion's manager, after looking over several sites, finally settled on a road house, three miles southwest of Reno, known as Rick's Resort. According to Flanagan it is an excellent place for a training camp, and affords all necessary facilities.

Jeffries will be stationed at Moana Springs, three miles south of Reno. Nothing, according to Manager Berger's reports, is lacking at this place that could be desired in connection with a fighter's camp. Natural hot and cold springs, an open air pavilion already provided, comfortable sleeping quarters and nearby fishing streams and lakes, are among the inducements offered.

A double fight will be Reno's offering on July 4th if Sid Hester succeeds in carrying out his plan to stage the Langford and Ketchel fight on the morning of the big battle in the same arena. Hester was busy today, endeavoring to arrange quarters for his fighters.

Rickard's announcement of the battleground of the big contest was given out in the form of a signed statement as follows:

"I have decided to hold the Jeffries-Johnson fight in Reno. In making the selection I wish to give my reason for so doing. Goldfield made an offer which it was hard to turn down. They are the gamest lot of men I ever saw. This morning a committee of Goldfield business men offered to take me to a local bank and guarantee me $200,000. I decided on Reno, however, for several reasons. In the first place I did not feel that fight 'fans' of the East and West should be compelled to take that extra 12 hour ride across the hot desert to Goldfield. Then again, the people from San Francisco can get here on the morning of July 4th and leave the same night in order to be back to business Tuesday morning. For this reason I think probably one or two thousand will come from San Francisco that would not go to Goldfield. The people have done all they could. They will build a suitable arena and pay for the $1,000 license for me.

"(Signed) TEX RICKARD."

It is understood that Jack Johnson will pitch his training quarters at Delmonte, a resort just outside the city limits and within a stone's throw of the site likely to be selected for the fight.

The Goldfield delegation which had made a determined effort to swing the "battle of the century" to Rickard's home town accepted the announcement with expressions of regret but promises to "boost the game" to the extent of their ability.

Reno fight fanatics are wildly elated over the defeat of Goldfield. Jeffries and his trainers are expected tomorrow. Flanagan has sent a telegram to Johnson, advising the negro to lose no time in reaching Reno.

ROCKEFELLER CONTRIBUTES.

Believer to Extent of $500 in the "Noiseless Fourth."

New York, June 21.—John D. Rockefeller is a believer in the "noiseless Fourth," to the extent of $500. He sent his check for that amount today to the Independence Day Committee in charge of the safe and sane celebration planned for this city. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., contributed $100.

The fund started yesterday by Mayor Gaynor with a $100 donation, today jumped to $1,850.

The board of aldermen has appropriated $15,000, which will probably be used to buy fireworks for display at night under strict municipal supervision.

OHIO DEMOCRATS ASSEMBLE

Harmon Will be Renominated Governor—Principal Fight Over Endorsement of Candidate For United States Senate.

Dayton, O., June 21.—Ten hundred and ninety-nine delegates and hundreds of spectators assembled in Montgomery county's Memorial Hall tonight at the opening of the Democratic State Convention, which will renominate Judson Harmon for a second term as governor of the State. Aside from the calling of the police to quell a disturbance in the session of the twelfth district (Columbus) delegates, the first day of the convention passed off quietly.

The most conspicuous contest in the convention, the fight for the endorsement of a candidate for United States Senator which began in the meeting of the State Central Committee today, had advanced nowhere by the time the delegates went to bed.

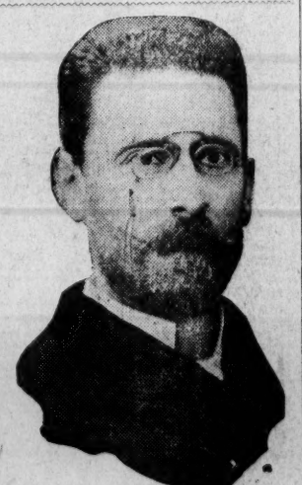
The net result of the struggle was the retirement of four State central committeemen, who today voted to send the call for the convention to include the naming of a man to succeed Senator Charles Dick.

These committeemen were Edward F. Lawler, 16th district; J. C. Shuler, seventh; Bernard Bell, eighteenth, and Dr. C. W. Millikin, nineteenth.

They were succeeded by men said to stand with Governor Harmon against the suggestion of William J. Bryan in regard to the endorsement.

Considerable interest was centered in the "keynote speech" made by temporary Chairman Atlee Pomerene, of Canton, tonight. His prediction that Ohio proposes to send Governor Harmon to the White House to introduce reforms in the affairs of the Federal Government aroused much enthusiasm.

So far as the minor State officers are concerned they are still in doubt. It is believed at Atlee Pomerene, Governor Harmon's opponent for the gubernatorial nomination in 1908 will be forced to accept the second place on the ticket to be named tomorrow.



New York, June 21.—Joseph Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York World and St. Louis Globe-Democrat, is said to be on his way back to New York in his private yacht in a serious condition. Mr. Pulitzer went to Berlin some months ago and later to Vienna, where he was to undergo treatment to try to restore his eyesight.

ROOSEVELT'S MANY CALLERS

Received Friends and Interviewers at Sagamore Hill Yesterday—No Peace For "Mighty Hunter". Scenes at Country Home.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 21.—Sagamore Hill settled down today to the routine of the Summer weeks which Theodore Roosevelt has dedicated to peace and quiet. Colonel Roosevelt spent the day in the beautiful environs of his estate, but not in idleness. Before he was wake in the morning a caller had arrived. Next came an interviewer who had not heard of the colonel's order barring all inquisitors from his home. Hardly had he made his expeditious exit when two more callers arrived. Later came a party of four, who were guests at Sagamore Hill over night.

The colonel also unpacked some of his luggage, took a walk, entertained his guests and went through part of the mass of mail which has accummulated—aside from this his day was one of rest.

Colonel Roosevelt is preparing for further diversion to take up his spare time. Workmen were busy today rolling the tennis course on which so many a man had gone down to defeat before the ex-President's lashing drives. Oyster Bay sizzled today with the thermometers registering a maximum of 89.

The noon train brought General Luke E. Wright, ex-Secretary of War, and James Thompson Williams, Jr., a former newspaper man, whom President Taft made civil service commissioner. Mr. Williams now lives in New Mexico. Oyster Bay is exhibiting considerable interest in the purpose of his visit. He was met at the station by Miss Ethel Roosevelt, who had come in a carriage to meet him.

General Wright remained at Sagamore Hill only long enough for luncheon and to see some of Mr. Roosevelt's African trophies.

"The colonel seems to be enjoying life thoroughly" said he. "My visit was purely a social one."

Late in the afternoon Joseph Bishop, secretary of the Panama Canal Commission, and C. J. LaForge, an architect, arrived. Both were accompanied by their wives and remained over night with the Roosevelts.

Mr. Bishop said Colonel Roosevelt wanted to learn about progress on the canal. Mr. LaForge said he had come down just to see his old friend, the colonel.

John Beach Straton, of Baltimore; Rev. W. Taylor, of Petersburg, Va.; President W. L. Poteat, of Wake Forest College, North Carolina and Rev. W. W. Hamilton, of Lynchburg, Va.

These encampments have heretofore been held at Buckroe Beach and Old Point Comfort, but for larger accommodation and with a view to putting the encampment on a permanent basis it was this year moved to Virginia Beach. The opening tonight was auspicious one considering weather conditions.

MEDICAL SOCIETY BEGINS SESSIONS

Fifty-Seventh Annual Convention Called to Order Yesterday Morning.

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL ADDRESS

Cordial Greeting From Hon. John D. Bellamy—Response by Dr. Way. Memorial Meeting— Other Notes of First Day.

The real feature of the first session of the 57th annual assembly of the North Carolina Medical Society which convened yesterday morning at Wrightsville Beach was the annual message of the president, who, in summing up, made three suggestions of vital importance to the profession throughout the State and which may precipitate a big fight later on in the meeting.

First, That all affairs of the society be controled by the general session, which will mean practically the abolition of the present constitution and by-laws. In view of some of the advantages in the present plan he suggested that a committee be appointed during this meeting for the consideration of the whole subject with the light now before the society and report a revised constitution for adoption at the next meeting.

Second, a more rigid censorship of papers in order to allow time for discussion.

Third, a more perfect development of county societies along the lines suggested in the address, which is given in full in another column of today's paper. Judging by the unanmity of the applause, the vast majority of the physicians heartily agree with the president and although it is understood that a number of leading members of the society disagree with him in his view, the chances are, unless something unforeseen develops, that the suggestions, or some of them, will be adopted.

Dr. Wm. Deb MacNider, of Chapel Hill, moved that the committee be appointed as recommended and that it report at this session. The motion was seconded by Dr. A. A. Kent, of Lenoir, who stated that he had never heard a better address by a president of the society, and the motion carried without a dissenting vote.

The fifth-seventh annual session composed of some of the most prominent physicians of the State, convened in the assembly hall of Tarrymoore Hotel, shortly after 10 o'clock with what is regarded as the largest attendance in many years and with many others arriving during the day. The hall was crowded with physicians, while there were many others in the hotel who were not able to obtain seats and, therefore, did not attend the opening session. It is indeed a representative gathering of the medical men of North Carolina and included in the number are some of the most widely known and ablest members of the profession in the State.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. George G. Thomas, of Wilmington, chairman of the committee on arrangements, and after a fervent prayer, offered by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Hon. John D. Bellamy, one of the leading members of the Wilmington bar and recognized as one of the most prominent lawyers in the State, was happily introduced by Dr. Thomas. Mr. Bellamy delivered the address of welcome in behalf of the city of Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach and he performed the pleasant duty assigned him in a most pleasing and eloquent manner, extending in his characteristically able and earnest way a big, sincere and hearty welcome to the men who perhaps are doing more for North Carolina than any other profession of men. He was frequently applauded especially when he referred to the well known historic facts regarding the Cape Fear section and when speaking deserving words of praise of the medical profession.

The response was made by Dr. J. Howell Way, of Waynesville, for many years secretary of the society, and one of its leading members, who began by explaining that he had been placed in an embarrassing position, being selected from the large number of orator-members of the society to respond to an address of welcome, which simply could not be responded to properly—an address that was filled with choice English, delivered with grace, ease and eloquence and replete with historic data of interest. He said he could not say more than that the members of the society were truly thankful from the bottom of their hearts. Dr. Way said that the physicians were not strangers in the Cape Fear section and then called attention to the fact that 60 years ago the society met here, being the first annual meeting ever held outside of the place of organization, Raleigh. Instrumental in getting that meeting for Wilmington was Dr. William George Thomas, the kindly, genial, lovable man, a typical Southern gentleman, who prepared an address and sent it broadcast over the State calling attention to the advantages of Wilmington, etc. "From that day until this," said Dr. Way, "Wilmington doctors have been an essential force in the society and today we feel that influence resting on the body." He said that when the society was young the Legislature passed a law creating the Board

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., June 21.—In a well played game today Wilmington took revenge on Goldsboro for her defeat yesterday. Stoehr was hit when safeties meant runs, while Howard was effective when men were on the third corner. Dubbs made a beautiful one-hand stab.

Kluttz, the first Sailor to face Stoehr, ethered and Dubbs was out pitcher to first, after which Tidy Ty, singled to left but was immediately out trying second. For Goldsboro Gates flied to left, Sharp was hit and walked after which Wolf sacrificed, but Daily was out short to first.

In the second Mills fouled to catcher, Doak flied to right and Carroll was out second to first. For Goldsboro Evans was out pitcher to first, Crockett singled over second but was forced by Clancy's hit to pitcher. Clancy being out attempting second.

Burke started the third with a whiff while Gilmore and Howard were out short and second to first. Fulton started Goldsboro with a bingle to centre after which Stoehr fanned and Fulton was out trying second; Gates was safe at first on error at short and stole second but Sharp fouled to catcher.

Kluttz got life in the fourth on error at third and was sacrificed by Dubbs after which Tydeman got his usual bingle and Kluttz scored; Mills flied out to second and Doak to third. Giant Wolf fanned and Daily and Evans flied to short and centre.

In the fifth after Carroll flied to right and Burke was out short to first Gilmore drove a safety to left, but Howard was out second to first. For Goldsboro Crockett and Clancy flied to second and centre and Fulton fouled to Mills.

The sixth was an out for Kluttz pitcher to first, Dubbs and Tydeman flied to right and left. Stoehr started Goldsboro's half with a bingle over third but was forced at second by Gates while Sharp flied to second, Gates stealing second while Wolf was fouling to catcher.

In the seventh Mills flied to centre, Doak to third and Carroll third to first. Goldsboro: Daily flied to centre, Evans out second to first, Crockett walked and stole second, Clancy going out short to first.

Burke started the eighth with a bingle to left, Gilmore flied to short; Reuben, then with his little willow, pasted a long one to left scoring Burke, while Kluttz flied to first and Dubbs was out short to first. Rube celebrated his hit just recorded by fanning in succession Fulton, Stoehr and Gates.

In the ninth Tidy Ty was out short to first, Mills flied to centre, Doak hit safely by short, but Carroll was out second to first. For the Giants Sharp was out short to first, Wolf flied to short and Daily was out pitcher to first. The tabulated score tells the rest:

SIZZLES.

Rube-d 'em!

Meet us at the Matinee.

Reuben always did have Goldsboro's goat.

Howard applied the brush to the Giants with vigor.

Carroll was in the game on 3rd, and never got a chance.

Rube whiffed three Giants one after another in the 8th frame.

The Sailors took kindly to that Stoehr's wares when things counted.

Hasn't the Wilson dope column shrunk mightily the past few days?

It's traditional that the Rube always wins his game in Goldsboro.

Howard also got himself a little bingle, as did Gilmore, Burke and Doak.

Goldsboro re-signed Catcher Fulton; and additionally taken on a new man.

Tidy Ty hit safely the first time up, and got another later on during the festivities.

Uncle Davy Crockett was the only gent that enjoyed a stroll through the medium of four wide ones.

Gilmore pegged out two on attempted steals, but there were three that worked the larceny game safely.

Brooks, the Kalsomine Kid, will be on the ridge this afternoon, which is an indication there will be some game played.

Dumpy Dubbs made our only error. Take your time, Dubbsy; tempus don't fugit all that quick you can't delve the up and cut the runner off 1st.

Up in Wilson they've forgotten all about percentage things, and are now bragging on their attendance. Expect we'll just have to get busy and beat them out on both.

What's the matter with the fans? The electric matinee isn't even making "current" expenses here lately. Just because the team loses one game now and then is no reason why there'll not be a good exciting affair the next day; and of course, the faithful cannot expect the automatic score board to be operated at a dead loss. The promoters are only seeking operating expenses; and patronage is only desired accordingly.

Much Interest Being Taken in Sport. The Records Yesterday.

Much interest is now being taken in the athletic and aquatic record events held during this month at the gymnasium and swimming pool at the Y. M. C. A. Last night the Juniors established four records in the swimming pool. R. Houston won the 50-foot swim in nine seconds flat; C. Shepard, second, 10 1-5 seconds. R. Houston also won the 50-yard swim in 34 3-5 seconds. C. Sheppard won the 100-yard swim in 1:33 3-5 seconds. E. Cavenaugh won the under water swim making a record distance of 71 feet.

In the boys' department J. Woolard won the 50-foot swim, time 11 seconds. He also won the 50-yard swim, time 44 seconds. Monday night the Senior department will race for records in the pool. The public is invited to witness these races. Several of the boys and young men are working out in preparation for the 4th of July races at Lumina. The events will be even more interesting than they were last year, an indoor baseball league is being organized among the Juniors. R. Lewis will captain the Cubs; C. Cleapor, the Tigers, and N. Davis, the Giants. Games will begin Monday night.

Those in charge have secured sufficient funds to make the day a lively one and interest is being manifested. In past years the Fourth has always been marked by special events at Southport. Rockingham Again Defeats Laurinburg—Cowles and Stafford.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Laurinburg, N. C., June 21.—Laurinburg defeated Rockingham again today by a score of 5 to 1. Perfect playing by Rockingham and that not quite so good by Laurinburg tells the story. Two errors at the wrong time bagged the game for the visitors and the manner in which Hackney in center and Williams in right waylayed the balls kept Laurinburg down to one run. Cowles, on the mound for the visitors, did fine work, holding the locals to four hits. Stafford did equally as fine work, allowing only seven hits. Score:

AGAINST WORLD'S FAIR.

Replies Expressing Disapproval Received in New York.

New York, June 21.—There is mighty little enthusiasm for the world's fair in New York proposed for New York in 1913. John Chaffin, temporary chairman of the committee, announced today that he had received replies from 40 members of the committee, 28 of whom opposed the project.

George Westinghouse expressed the opinion that there were "too many world's fairs."

Robert W. DeForest said that New York could not afford to have a fair that would not compare with those held in Chicago or St. Louis. Francis Lynd Stetson and Albert H. Gary, joined in the chorus of disapproval.

A preliminary meeting of a handful of the committee was held today and a sub-committee was named to feel the public pulse on the matter.

Norfolk, Va., June 21.—Revenue men made a raid on an alleged illicit still yesterday morning on the southern branch of the Elizabeth river near the Mosely farm. Five hundred gallons of beer was found but the operators, supposed to be white men, had been informed of the contemplated visit of the government men and escaped.

New York, June 21.—Two prominent members of the theatrical world have been dangerously ill in New York. Eugene Walter, the author of "Paid In Full," and "The Easiest Way," suffered from an attack of pneumonia. Geo. P. Huntley, one of the best English actors that ever visited this country, is suffering from typhoid fever.

FOR RECLAMATION PROJECT.

Bill Goes to House—Asks for $20,000,000.

Washington, June 21.—By a vote of 255 to 20 the House at 10:10 o'clock tonight received a bill providing for the issuance of certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $20,000,000 to provide a fund for the completion of reclamation projects already begun. The House then adjourned. The measure now will go to the Senate where its passage is assured.

Originally the Senate passed such a bill, although it carried provision for an issue aggregating $30,000,000. It was recognized that even this amount was too small to complete works approved and it was expected that ultimately a fund aggregating $50,000,000 would have to be supplied.

Under the terms of the bill certificates are to be taken up from payments made by settlers for water to be supplied by the government. There will be no drain, it is said, upon the Federal finances.

The differentce between the home-coming of Bryan and the home-coming of Roosevelt is that Bryan delivered a speech that startled the country, while Roosevelt said nothing and is keeping the country guessing.

China is getting to be so modernized that she is likely to have a Parliament to legislate for the Empire. The Parliament doubtless will modernize itself by falling into the hands of some Chinese "Uncle Joe."

With Colonel Roosevelt to go into retirement for two months and Congress to adjourn in a few days, we had a dread that some unsettled question would be brought up for discussion. In order to show that our suspicions are correct, here comes the Baltimore Evening Sun saying this: "Incidentally, if Lillian Russell admits she is 50, what is the real age of Ann?"

Charlotte has begun to make arrangements for the State Democratic convention which meets there July 14th. It will not equal the great convention held in the Queen City two years ago, yet there are several circumstances that will make it a very important convention and one not without a very lively interest throughout the State.

The dental office robbers who recently stole $2,000 worth of false teeth and dental supplies from offices in Lynchburg, Va., made a raid on the offices of the dentists at Asheville a few days ago. As Asheville is in a Republican district, let us hope that it is a bad omen for Congressman Grant. He will need plenty of false teeth this Fall, as the Democrats expect to make him bite the dust.

The Star is pleased to note from the press of central and western Carolina that Judge Pell is making a fine impression as a wearer of the judicial ermine. We knew that he would grace the bench in North Carolina and the good things we see in the paeprs about him and the encomiums which come from the bar concerning his brief judicial career justify Governor Kitchin's appointment of Judge Pell. The Judge is a former newspaper man and the only "charge" that can be brought against him is that he deserted journalism to become a lawyer.

Newbern is not only going to do herself proud in celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of her settlement, but that city is going to feature the event with a historical and spectacular programme that should attract people from all over North Carolina. The people of Wilmington generally, and especially the large German element of our city, are deeply interested in the notable occasion which is attracting attention to the City on the Neuse, and the City on the Cape Fear will send over a large contingent to enjoy the celebration. Newbern knows how to celebrate, too.

"The Western Bloomer Girls" is the name of a baseball team that is creating a sensation in central and western North Carolina—especially among the boys. The girls are going from town to town challenging the baseball teams and it seems that they catch the crowd every where they go. A few newspapers attacked the girls with a view to prevent the fans from patronizing such a feminine folly as a female baseball nine, but the bigger the criticisms the bigger the crowd at the ball grounds. There are times when the disapproval of newspapers constitutes the biggest kind of an advertisement. The more that it said about some classes of shows and bloomer baseball teams the better they like it. It is nothing but free advertising and the rougher the criticism the bigger the advertisement.

HONOR AMONG MEN.

The candidacy of the Hon. Charles M. Stedman for the Democratic nomination for Congress, in the Greensboro district serves to recall the high sense of honor which prevailed among the men of Maj. Stedman's splendid type in the good old days that are gone. The seeking of a nomination by Maj. Stedman is not considered in the same sense as the scramble which is engaged in nowadays by men who only know of old time honor and proprieties as a tradition. As an example of the high sense of honor which should yet prevail between self-respecting men, the following from the Greensboro Record will serve as an illustration:

"Major Stedman, Guilford's candidate for Congress, sticks to the plan of not going into any county having a candidate. He is doing his work in those counties having no candidate. This is characteristic of the old soldier and gentleman, but there is such a thing as 'tit for tat.' All the others have entered in Guilford, so why should he not wade into their counties? It is true that these outsiders filed their applications before it was known that Major Stedman was to run."

As a matter of course, there is nothing dishonorable in the fact that one candidate for Congress should invade the county in which another candidate resides. Every county in the district is the man's who can get it, but while that is true the propriety as Major Stedman sees it is bound to challenge our admiration. However, it is hardly necessary for a man who expects to get a nomination these times to stand back upon the proprieties which once existed. He should come out and do as Rome does and follow the order of the day, although it is not as nice as that to which Major Stedman was accustomed in his early manhood.

It would be refreshing to see a man of Major Stedman's type win a seat in Congress as a tribute to the good old way which gentlemen had as a guide among themselves way back yonder. It might not be a bad idea to send Major Stedman to Congress to show that body that we can still send to the National Capital the courtly and able men who used to be so representative of the South.

BOUGHT ELECTIONS.

What nominations and elections mean in a good many States in this Republic is illustrated by the fact that Congressman Joseph C. Sibley, one of the Republican members of Congress in Pennsylvania, spent $40,698 to secure his re-nomination in the recent Pennsylvania primary election. In spite of his money his Republican contestant held him down to a very narrow majority and it shows that if money were kept out of the people's elections representatives of the people would be sent to Congress instead of the representatives of special interests who debauch the ballot by buying votes and influence.

Sibley's Democratic opponent should beat him in the election next Fall, but if Sibley spent $40,698 to get the nomination from his own party it can be ventured that he will spend twice that much to be elected over the Democratic candidate. The people who put up the money for these elections have an axe to grind and they get it ground good and sharp. They do not spend their money for fun and it is about time the American people should quit boasting of their freedom and independence or else put an end to the kind of elections in which money counts more than free-born citizens.

The people of the United States ought to put their feet down on boodle politicians of all kinds. It makes no difference whether a man is a Republican or a Democrat, the corruptionists should get such a rebuke from the people that no man would dare to practice the corruption which makes our Republican form of government the laughing stock of the world. If our people could get the disgust on them as foreigners have for the election methods and political chicanery practiced in this country we would have self-respect enough to make a severe example of the politician who rolls out his barrel when the people go to make their nominations or hold their elections.

New Haven is to have a Taft Hotel, to be named in honor of the President. The guests who stop there will have to pay a big Bill.

The announcement comes from England that "George V. loves real poetry." Alfred Austin, the poet laureate, may as well take that as a notice to hunt another job.

The press is making much of it because ex-President Roosevelt "leaped ashore" when he reached New York last Saturday. For him that was only an ordinary way to show the crowd that there was nothing the matter with his agility or his strenuosity. Did they expect him to cut a double sommersault and land head-up?

In passing, Brother Joe King, of the Durham Herald, remarks that "they did not hesitate to jump on Mr. Kitchin, but he has done little fighting back since he was made Governor." They probably get madder about it the longer they consider the fact that Governor Kitchin's silence may simply mean that he considered the source.

HOLD TIGHT TO YOUR MONEY.

Mr. James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, is more or less an optimist as to the agricultural interests of this country, but he is a pessimist so far as the railroads are concerned. He is rather inclined to foresee a crisis with the railroads on account of agitation against them, and, in the event that trouble may come, he says to railroad managements: "Hold on to some of your money."

Mr. Hill has furnished a text that young men and old ones can apply to themselves. People who hold on to some of their money are always prepared for that traditional rainy day, so we take Mr. Hill's remarks as the occasion for urging that the first thing a man ought to think about is to start an account with a savings bank. Whether the amount deposited at first is little or big it will help a man to get the savings habit, and along in life he will find many occasions when he will congratulate himself that at an early period in his life he took it into his head to hold tight to some of his money.

Saving not only encourages thrift but when there is a sum in the savings bank it is a powerful comfort when trouble comes, a staff on which to lean when prosperity slackens, or a ready resource when opportunities of various kinds meet you face to face. The man with money in the bank is prepared to seize many an opportunity that will "make his jack." Ready monel when the chance comes has made many a man independent the balance of his life, although he may have started his savings in a small way. Hold tight to some of your money so you can smooth the way of life and be able to help yourself when you get a chance to go into business, to start some enterprise, or to pick up a bargain.

The deposits in the savings banks of Wilmington are a gratifying evidence that our people are thoughtful enough to hold on to some of their money. Our splendid, safe and reliable savings banks have done a work of lasting value in encouraging among the people of Wilmington a habit of saving. In that respect, also, the people of the United States have gotten to be a saving people. Thriftlessness and extravagance are giving way to a sane policy that will help the people and help the country. According to the report of the Comptroller of the Currency, given out at Washington recently, there were at the close of the last fiscal year 8,831,861 persons in the United States who had on deposit in savings banks the comfortable sum of $3,713,405,709. To that sum should be added $200,000,000 deposited in State banks and certain trust companies not included in the Comptroller's report.

The largest deposits in the United States are in the East, covering a territory from the Potomac river to the Canadian border, that region having more than 80 per cent of the total savings deposits in the United States. There is where your money is and that is why that part of the country is rich and prosperous beyond all conception in a great many instances. Second and third comes the Middle West and the Pacific States, which is to say that the people South are behind on savings but are making a good start. The South should keep it up and keep its money at home where it will help the people and help the country.

In Germany the people have the savings business down to a fine point, the banks encouraging the deposit of amounts as low as one cent. In that way the people from the lowest to the highest are encouraged to save, while many of the banks send out solicitors to the people to receive their money and give them credit for deposits. "Save the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves" is an axiom which the German bankers are literally carrying to the people.

Let the people of the South get more of the saving habit, for the banks are ready to aid them in the good work. Keep the money at home by buying what you need at home. Some one writing to the Star recently was so thoughtless and unphilosophical as to advocate the policy of sending away for everything that could be bought cheaper anywhere else. If everybody were to do that there might not be a store, or a crossroads village, or a city in the South, and we are not so sure that the reason the South is behind all the balance of the country in saving money and having it in the bank can be attributed to the fact that we send most of our money away for what we eat and what we wear from the crown of our heads to the soles of our feet.

A protective tariff is levied to compel (by law) people to buy in the United States instead of sending their money to Europe. If that kind of policy is good for the nation the policy of saving our money and spending it at home is the very best thing every community can do for itself. This is sufficient answer to all people who think they can save something by sending their money away from home. In the first place, after paying freight or express, there is little or no advantage in buying things away from home and certainly it is poor economy for a people or a country to empty its treasures into the distant stranger's lap. It is a worse policy not to patronize the savings banks where your money can be kept at home and draw 4 per cent interest.

The Charleston News and Courier remarks that "Peary says he had a hard time getting through Europe." Most editors would also be up against it if they were to try to make the riffle.

Do not steal and you will never be convicted of larceny unless the jury believes a set of lying witnesses who may form a conspiracy against you. Col. Roosevelt is inhibited from discovering this truth and appropriating it for the budget of his already well known truths.

The Sultan of Sulu is soon to honor the United States with a visit. He is coming to sell a collection of pearls valued at $250,000, so it is stated. He left behind him in the Philippines his many wives, but it would be just a little mean to suggest the possibility that some of their pearls may be missing.

Newbern's lights for the celebration will be splendid. Many favorable comments are already heard on the arches that have been put on our principal streets, and some people think it would be a good idea to make them permanent on the business blocks.—Newbern Sun.

The people of North Carolina generally, and the Democratic party in particular, ought to be profoundly thankful that this will be the last week of the nauseating contest now being waged by factions of the Democratic party in Wake county. We do not recall in the entire political history of the State such a disgusting washing of dirty linen as has gone on in the good county of Wake during the past three or four weeks.—Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligencer.

The Raleigh Evening Times thinks the situation in Wake county is not to be blamed entirely upon the Democrats. "The call for the mass meeting which started the row," it says, "was signed by seven men out of forty who voted for Jim Young for the Legislature against N. B. Broughton and there are three men on the re-former ticket whose party standing is by no means good, while their leader has been called a 'Republican hyena'." The Chronicle evidently owes an apology to somebody, but to whom?—Charlotte Chronicle.

Cotton flour bread is now a commercial article in Charlotte. It has been added to the regular products of Young's Bakery, and there is a demand for it both by the retail and wholesale trade. It is made into loaves that sell at 5 cents each. It resembles Graham bread in color but has a richer tone, and with Jersey butter it goes fine. This bread that is made from the cotton seed is not only palatable, but nutritious and the example of the Charlotte bakery, we feel sure, will soon be followed by bakeries all over the South, and cotton flour bread will become a staple article in homes, hotels and restaurants.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The almost universal hysteria which has featured the return of Theodore Roosevelt, ex-President of the United States and American Ambassador to the Jungle, can without a stretch of imagination be attributed to the extensive press notices he has received. It is an admitted fact that since his first inauguration Mr. Roosevelt has consumed more newspaper space than any one man in a life time. His comings and goings, thoughts, words, deeds and actions have been chronicled with servile and sickening fidelity. Hence it is small wonder that the Nation has bordered on fanaticism which now finds expression in the wild and impossible suggestion that he (Roosevelt) be made President of the United States for the balance of his life. While the idea of a life Presidency is not novel to Mr. Roosevelt, it must on sober reflection become repugnant even to the Colonel's warmest admirers. It is wholly un-American in principle and practice and entirely unworthy of any sane mind.—Asheville Citizen.

The owners of the Southern repudiated fraudulent bonds are selling a few of them at auction in New York. A few days ago this item appeared in the Journal of Commerce: "$10,000 State of North Carolina 6 per cent. bonds, due April, 1898 (account Chatham Railroad Company). Per bond, $4 1-2." What is the meaning of this? Do the holders wish to advertise that North Carolina's credit is no good? Or do they hope to get new blood in their fight against the State? Or has some Josie Mansfield decided to dispose of her bonds at about what they cost her? What does it mean, anyway? It will be observed that the notice of sale does not say anything about the sort of bonds that will be sold. The public would not know that these bonds were fraudulent, issued by the Reconstruction Legislature. While the recent sale of bonds was pending such sales and advertisements might have helped to make the sale more difficult, but now the purpose, if there is a purpose, by the Carlisle committee could only be to lay the foundation for future litigation.—Raleigh News and Observer.

ACCUSES WHISKEY TRUST.

Would as Soon Slander His Mother as Slander His State.

(Special to Charlotte Observer.)

Winston-Salem, June 20.—In an address last night at Centenary Methodist church, which was largely attended, ex-Gov. R. B. Glenn, his principal theme being State-wide prohibition, took occasion to refer to the misrepresenting report of a speech he made recently at Cleveland, Ohio, which he characterized as due to the hatred of him by the whiskey trust. The whiskey trust had already tried to cripple him in every possible way, said Mr. Glenn, and now it was reduced to setting out lies upon him. He said that his father had died for the Southland, and he would as soon think of slandering his sainted old mother as to slander his State. Regardless of lying criticism, he would stand to his guns and fight for the uplifting of humanity and for bringing of law and order in the State.

As to prohibition, it was a success, said Mr. Glenn, despite evasions in some localities and by some individuals. "Where there was lawlessness, there is now peace," said he. Employers testify that employes are saving more of their wages, a great part of which formerly went for drink. Bankers say that deposits are greater than ever, due in part to savings which formerly went into the saloon till. Judges of superior courts say that crime has been reduced 50 per cent in the last ten years because of the growth of sobriety. "Don't let us permit designing hypocrites to make us dissatisfied with the law," he exclaimed. "If whiskey is a good thing, let us have it. If it brings ruin, disgrace, poverty, insanity; if it breaks hearts and destroys homes let us stamp it out."

He urged the aldermen to refuse to grant near-beer licenses, telling them at any rate to make the tax so high as to make it prohibitive. Also he said inspectors should be appointed to test whether the near-beer was genuine or intoxicating.

A SILLY RUMOR.

That Governor Kitchin Proposes to Remove Certain Sheriffs.

(Raleigh News and Observer, June 21)

A queer rumor that has been floating around in some newspapers was yesterday called to the attention of Governor Kitchin, it being that he was preparing to remove some sheriffs said to be not enforcing the State prohibition law. The reports went on to say that most of the sheriffs to be removed were Republican sheriffs in western North Carolina and further that Governor Kitchin had one before him a short time ago and only let him off on the promise that he would do better.

Of course all such publications are pure fabrications, and the matter set out in the items was news to the Governor. He had no sheriff before him with a view to removing him from office for failure to enforce the State prohibition law and says that this is the first he has heard of such a thing; that it had never even been suggested that power was given the Governor to remove sheriffs.

AUDIT AND FINANCE BOARD

Tungsten Arch Lights Will be Continued—Street Repair Appropriation Passed—Other Matters at Last Night's Regular Meeting.

Alderman B. O. Stone, who has worked so earnestly and persistently for the retention of the Tungsten arch lights on the downtown streets of the city, came off victoriously in his final presentation of the subject to the Board of Audit and Finance at its regular semi-monthly meeting last night, the full appropriation as asked for having been granted with an additional $1,000 for new installations in other parts of the city as needed.

The Board was in session for a couple of hours and transacted much important business, action of the Aldermen with reference to near-beer having been concurred in insofar as the ordinance pertains to finance, the budget for the fiscal year's expenses having been finally closed up and a large number of contracts either were approved or referred back to the Aldermen for further information.

The Board met shortly after 8 o'clock and upon motion of Mr. Wilder, Mr. Tiencken was called to the chair in the absence of Mr. Heyer, all other members having been in attendance; also Capt. T. D. Meares, the clerk; City Attorney Herbert McClammy, Capt. Louis Belden, chairman of the Street Commission; Street Superintendent R. O. Grant, Aldermen B. O. Stone and F. W. Bonitz and Attorney T. D. Meares, Jr. After reading and approval of the minutes, a communication from the Board of Aldermen was read, stating the action of that body at the last special meeting. Alderman Stone was first heard in regard to continuance of the arch lighting system and read a number of additional names to the petition asking for the additional appropriation. Alderman Stone explained very carefully the cost of the additional lights and referred to the very strong memorial from some of the largest tax payers in the city. Alderman Stone made a strong, earnest appeal for the lights and also $1,000 extra for lamps in other parts of the city. Mr. Cooper moved to reconsider the former action in declining the appropriation which was seconded by Mr. Wilder and carried. After further consideration, Mr. McQueen moved that the appropriation as it came from the Aldermen, amounting to $18,596 be approved and the motion was unanimously carried.

Mr. Jas. E. Holton was present and asked as to the refund of license tax on near beer dealers in view of the change in closing hour by the Aldermen. The city attorney was asked as to the status of the case and said that he saw no reason why in right or justice, the license should not be refunded pro rata to any who desire to withdraw their applications. Alderman Bonitz explained his resolution before the Board. Mr. Tiencken asked if the ordinance was legal in the first instance when it was introduced and passed at the same meeting by a divided vote. He asked if it did not require unanimous consent. The matter was discussed at length and upon motion of Mr. McQueen the Board concurred in the resolution of the Board of Aldermen provided dealers take advantage of the withdrawal by July 1st.

Alderman Bonitz submitted his estimate of the cost of street cleaning and repairs for the year, the Street Commission having agreed to have this work done under the regular Streets and Wharves Department. The estimate is $26,489 for the year, this including an increase of the superintendent of streets' salary from $960 to $1,200 per year, repairing of carts, purchase of new teams, etc. Capt. Grant was heard in regard to the salary and after further consideration, the estimate was approved upon motion of Mr. Cooper. This closed up the budget for the year, which was formally adopted as a whole.

Bid of Orrell Livery Co., for feeding, shoeing and caring for the city teams was referred back to the Board of Aldermen for specifications from the bidder.

All other bids for supplies for the year were approved with the exception of a slight clerical error in the proposal of the Tidewater Power Co., which was corrected, and the proposal of the Springer Coal Co., for coal, which was referred back to the board to know why a higher bid had been accepted for a certain grade of fuel.

The tax ordinance as passed by the Board of Aldermen was then taken up and passed by the legal three votes in the affirmative with the exception of Section 37, relating to merchants' license the Finance Board having recommended a change in gradation of dealers whose sales run from $300,000 to $400,000 per year. The ad valorem tax remains at $1.30 per hundred, a reduction of 10 cents from last year as contended for by the Board of Audit and Finance from the outset.

Proposals for the two deep wells were referred back to the Aldermen for some information as to location. The Board also concurred in the week's vacation to the street hands on pay and in the turning of the city tax delinquent book over to the city attorney for collection. Coupons amounting to $8,845, due and paid April 1st by the Board, were burned as required by law after which bills for current expenses were audited and approved.

THE UNITED WIRELESS.

Message to Mr. Farmer Reassuring to the Stockholders Here.

A message branding the action against the United Wireless Company as "malicious jealousy," and reassuring to the stockholders, was received yesterday from Mr. M. A. Kopperl, a director of the company, by Mr. J. B. Farmer, the State agent located in this city.

Mr. Kopperl lives in Atlanta and the messages were sent from that point. He believes that within a short time the company will be in a position to "make good" the outstanding stock, but says he will take no further steps in the interest of the company until he is reasonably sure of the situation in his own mind. A quantity of the stock was sold in this city and Mr. Farmer held a number of subscriptions for more when the offices in New York were raided and the officers arrested.

IN THE RECORDER'S COURT

Number of Cases Disposed of Yesterday—Negro Girls Charged With Shoplifting—Negro Charged With Forgery—Others.

The Recorder had several cases of more than passing interest for his consideration yesterday, the majority of the cases, however, being continued. Mary Robinson, Geneva Johnson and Viola Bell, the negro girls, charged with shoplifting at the store of Messrs. J. H. Rehder & Co., on Monday, have employed L. Clayton Grant, Esq., to defend them and their case after being called was continued until Tuesday. In default of $200 bond each, the trio went to jail.

A. D. Wheeler, colored, a plain drunk, was assessed with the costs. The most important case was that of George Green, colored, a former drayman, charged with larceny by trick in securing certain feedstuffs from John S. McEachern Sons on a false order by telephone, particulars of which have been given. Marsden Bellamy, Esq., appeared for the prosecution, and Green was remanded to jail in default of $300 justified bond. In three other cases of forgery of orders on prominent merchants on the wharf, he waived examination and was bound over to court. He is charged with giving an order to Mr. H. L. Vollers signed by the Stone Co., for two caddies of tobacco; an order on Mr. J. A. Taylor signed by the Brunswick Grocery Co., and two other forged orders on the F. E. Hashagen Co. and Heyer Brothers, signed by the Wilmington Produce Co. The negro was not represented by counsel.

COLORED LODGE IMBROGLIO.

Stephen Nelson Charged With Interferring With Meeting, Dismissed.

A large number of prominent colored people of the city were before Justice George Harriss yesterday afternoon to hear the pros and cons of an indictment under the criminal statutes against Stephen Nelson, charged with interferring Monday afternoon with a meeting of the Order of Eastern Stars at their lodge room on Princess street, the prosecutor being James D. Dry, the well known colored tailor.

Nelson was represented by Hon. John D. Bellamy and the prosecution was not represented by counsel. Only two witnesses were heard—Jas. D. Dry and Rev. Avant, a district officer who was present at the meeting. From the testimony it appears that there has been some trouble in the lodge and an attempt was made to oust Nelson as the presiding officer of the Wilmington branch of the order. When the lodge was ready for business Monday afternoon, Nelson was on hand and Rev. Avant declined to call the meeting to order while Nelson was present, Nelson declining to retire. The "ins" decided to take their case in court and yesterday the hearing was set before the Justice. It was held that inasmuch as the meeting had not been called to order, as admitted by the prosecution, there could be no disturbance of a meeting and the case was at once thrown out of court. What future steps will be taken to reconcile the differences in the lodge is not known.

PLANS ACCEPTED.

Enlargement of High School Building. Jos. F. Leitner, Architect.

It was learned last night that the school committee of District No. 1, at a meeting yesterday morning, decided to accept plans as prepared by Architect J. F. Leitner for the enlargement of the High School building, which has been contemplated for some time. The plans of the committee are to at once award the contract and to have the building ready for occupancy by October 1st.

Bedecked Him With Paint.

Man Charles, a pickaninny, was arrested yesterday by Deputy J. A. Temple and hauled to Justice Bornemann's court on the charge of being one of several young negroes who caught J. C. Hankins, another small colored boy, and smeared red paint all over him in the northern part of the city a few days ago. Hankins pushes an ice cream cart around the street for a Greek vender and was caught by the young vandals up the street and dealt pretty severely with. The case was continued until other members of the gang can be apprehended.

Roots, Herbs and Barks.

You can no doubt recall the collection of roots, herbs and barks your grandmother made every Fall for the family medicine chest.

It is interesting to note that the most successful remedy for female ills had its origin more than 30 years ago in one of these home medicine chests, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made today in immense quantities from those same roots and herbs with extreme accuracy, care and cleanliness.

Steamer Wilmington Tomorrow.

Tomorrow, Thursday, the steamer Wilmington will not make her regular schedule on account of the trip of the Bankers' Association to Fort Caswell. The steamer will leave for Carolina Beach at 9 A. M., returning to the city at 11:30 A. M. and touching at the beach on the return from the fort about 6 P. M. Patrons are kindly asked to note this change for the day only.

State B. Y. P. U. Convention.

Rev. G. A. Martin, pastor of Southside Baptist Church, left yesterday evening for Durham, N. C., where he will attend the State convention of the B. Y. P. U. Mr. Martin will make one of the principal addresses at the convention today, his subject being "How the B. Y. P. U. Helps Our Church." Mr. Martin will return the last of the week.

Red Men Becoming Active.

Eyota Tribe No. 5, Improved Order of Red Men, held a largely attended and enthusiastic kindling of the council fires at the wigwam last evening and several new members caught in the forest were scalped in true Indian fashion. Plans were discussed for a big outing during the Summer, the arrangements for which will be made later.

COLORED MEDICAL SOCIETY

Twenty-First Annual Sessions Began in This City Yesterday—Large Attendance—Meetings Continue Through Today.

The 21st annual session of the North Carolina Medical, Pharmaceutical and Dental Association, colored, met yesterday at 10 A. M. in the True Reformers' Hall, Dr. T. R. Mask, of this city, presiding temporarily. The invocation was by Dr. A. M. Moore, of Durham. Interesting remarks were made by Dr. F. S. Hargrave, A. M. Moore and A. A. Wyche.

Upon the arrival of Dr. J. W. Walker, of Asheville, president of the Association, he gave an excellent resume of the work of the association that elicited unstinted applause. Immediately after his address the following doctors were elected as officers for the ensuing year: Dr. F. S. Hargrave, Wilson, president; Dr. Chas. A. Dunston, Raleigh, first vice president; Dr. Thos. R. Mask, Wilmington, second vice president; Dr. A. A. Wyche, Charlotte, secretary and treasurer; Dr. F. L. Daniels, Salisbury, recording secretary.

The work of Dr. Walker for the association to accomplish great good has lent impetus to the movement. He was elected delegate to the National Association, colored, which convenes in Washington, D. C., August 24th.

One of the main features of the morning session was the discussion led by Drs. A. M. Moore, F. S. Hargraves, F. W. Avant, and A. A. Wyche, touching matters pertaining to the profession.

At 2:30 P. M. a representative gathering of colored citizens and members of the association met for the second session which was opened with President Walker in the chair, invocation being by Dr. Wyche. Dr. Chas. A. Dunston, a leading colored dentist of Raleigh, read an interesting paper on "General Prophylesis of the Teeth." The paper was discussed by Drs. P. H. Williams, of Raleigh; M. D. Bowen, Wilmington; F. W. Avant, Wilmington; F. S. Hargraves, of Wilson. Prof. Green, principal of Williston Graded Schools, this city, spoke very interestingly from a layman's point of view in regard to the preservation of the teeth as a means to health.

Dr. F. W. Avant read a valuable paper on the practice of Midwifery. Dr. A. A. Wyche, Dr. T. R. Mask and Dr. C. H. Bynum, of Kinston, also discussed the subject, looking to remedies of practice.

In his annual address Dr. Walker gave many interesting and important statistics and defined the purposes of the organization and incidentally stated that it had been definitely decided the negro had not brought about the hookworm. A rising vote of thanks was given the president for his able treatise on certain scientific facts and suggestions. A committee of five was appointed to act on the address in line with suggestions and recommendations contained therein.

A large audience of the better element of colored people assembled in the main auditorium of St. Stephens' Church at 8:30 o'clock last night to witness the exercises as announced. After a selection by the choir and invocation by Rev. Baldwin, Dr. Walker in an able manner paid tribute to the head of the city fathers in introducing Dr. T. R. Mask, who introduced in a short but inspiring address Mayor Walter G. MacRae, who was greeted with much applause. The address was a forceful and inspiring one. He referred to the achievements of the colored race and admonished his hearers to let their character be in their work and he would not be astonished at any progress the profession would make. Owing to the indisposition of the Mayor he had to retire after his address. After a selection by the colored Presbyterian choir, Dr. Walker in glowing terms introduced Dr. L. B. McBrayer, city physician of Asheville, and member of the State Board of Medical Examiners for the State.

In beginning his address he said that the material advancement of the negroes in Asheville in the last eight years was due largely to the character and leadership of Dr. Walker. "A true friend is the one who tells us of our faults and frivolities," and Dr. McBrayer, in giving advice to the colored physicians, spoke of the deficiencies as well as the excellencies of the negro physicians who appeared before the Board of Examiners and recommended a good high school training for the young men of negroid descent preparatory to the professions. The diseases that effect a large number of colored people were discussed by him. His final words were: "The call of the hour is to save your race from this extermination. Will you heed?"

The welcome address on behalf of the local colored physicians was made by Dr. T. R. Mask and the response by Dr. Hargraves. A paper on "Pellagra" was read by Dr. John E. Baxter, of Henderson, after which the paper was discussed by different members.

A session will be held this morning at 9:30 o'clock in True Reformers' Hall. At 2 P. M. the members will take an outing to Carolina Beach and will be given a banquet at night in the hall.

LARGE CLASS OF NURSES

Thirty-Eight Apply to State Board for Licenses—Largest Number Ever. Dr. Stiles Makes Address. At the Beach.

The State Board of Examiners for Trained Nurses convened at the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, yesterday morning for a three days' session for the examination of applicants for licenses as nurses. There are 38 applications, the largest number in the history of the board, and the young ladies are from various parts of the State. The examinations were given yesterday, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. The first was given by Dr. C. A. Julian, of Thomasville, on anatomy and physiology, and the second by Dr. Oscar McMullin, of Elizabeth City, on materia medica and surgical nursing.

Before beginning his examination yesterday morning Dr. Julian introduced Dr. Charles Waddell Stiles, of the Marine Hospital Service, Wasnington, D. C., and scientific secretary of the Rockefeller Hookworm Commission, who spoke in a happy vein to the nurses. He congratulated them upon their noble work and also called their attention to the great good they may do by taking up their work among mill operatives. He stated that it would not be so lucrative but that the results would be much more far-reaching. In fact, he requested them to get acquainted with the cotton mill owners and offer their services among their employes. The eminent scientist was listened to with great interest by the nurses.

The examinations will continue through today and tomorrow, when the work of grading the papers will be begun.

Washington, June 21.—The mammoth task of recording the 13th decennial census of the United States has progressed to such a point within a few days the census bureau will begin to make public the population of the larger cities of the country.

The figures for the cities containing 75,000 or more people will be given out first. They will be followed later in the Summer by the population of States and counties which will also include cities of 8,000 or more persons.

The returns of about 47,000 enumerators have been received by the bureau and it is expected the remainder of the 70,000 reports will be in July 1st.

STILL FIGHTING CANNON.

House Leaders Hold a Secret Conference Yesterday.

Washington, June 21.—A secret conference of a number of the leaders of the House "insurgents" was held late today to discuss the subject of further activity at the present session. The question of whether another attempt should be made to depose Speaker Cannon was broached and again a divided sentiment on the subject was disclosed.

Statements were submitted by different members who had canvassed the situation and reports were made of careful counts on the proposition. It was agreed that it was extremely doubtful whether enough votes could be obtained to carry through such action.

One "insurgent" reported that he had carefully sounded the Democratic side and had found that the Democrats preferred to enter the Congressional campaign with Speaker Cannon still the presiding officer of the House. Members of the minority, he said, believed their chances for carrying the House were improved with the issue of "Cannonism" still a live one.

The unanimous opinion of the "insurgents," however, that the Democrats would vote solidly to depose Speaker Cannon if the motion was made.

Before the meeting ended one prominent member of the "insurgent" body, who is strongly in favor of deposing the Speaker, informed his colleagues that it was a question for individual action and he wished to serve notice that he might of his motion, bring the matter before the House.

EXPULSION OF JEWS.

Situation in Russia Continues Serious. Search.

Kiev, June 21.—Owing to the decree of expulsion, many Jews took refuge in the suburbs of Solomenka and Demieffka. As a consequence rents at these places increased enormously. The Orthodox residents, who are largely workmen from the neighboring factories sent a petition to the Governor asking him to intervene. Accordingly orders have been issued expelling 139 of these Jews from Solomenka and 173 from Demieffka. From June 18th to June 21st, 217 individuals have been expelled from Kiev.

Smolensk, Russia, June 21.—The organized search for Jews has been resumed in the Dukhovshtchina district. Today a detachment of secret mounted police raided the neighborhood of Yartsevo station on the Moscow-Brest Railroad, which is an indpendent business center. They captured 14 young Jews and took them under arrest to Dukhovshtchina. An extensive house to house search is now going on at other points.

UPRISING EXAGGERATED

Mexican Ambassador Informs Secretary Knox of Situation.

Washington, June 21—The Mexican ambassador this afternoon assured Secretary Knox personally that the report of serious revolutionary uprisings in Northern Mexico was greatly exaggerated. He said that the disorders reported were only such as incident to the average presidential election. The State Department has given fresh instructions for increasing the military control on this side of the border.

Chicago, June 21.—George M. Reynolds, head of the $200,000,000 Continental and Commercial bank at the age of 45, is a living example of what attending strictly to business will do for a man. President of the second financial institution in America while young enough to be the son of many of his directors, Mr. Reynolds is a man who never stepped out of the beaten track, or ever stopped working and never suffered a reverse. He has never lost a day from sickness; he has never taken a vacation that did not have business inside; he does not drink; does not smoke; he does not play bridge; he does not play golf; he has no favorite author; he has no hobby but banking; he has no country residence; he does not even take exercise; he works nine hours a day. "Make your business your pleasure and marry early. These are my rules." said Mr. Reynolds.

of Medical Examiners and gave the society the power to elect the members, and a Wilmington man, the late and lamented Dr. James Henry Dickinson, was elected chairman. Dr. Way then spoke of the fact that five times a Wilmington doctor had been at the head of the society.

Referring to the great work the State Board of Health is doing with only $8,000 a year, while other States not accomplishing near so much, have an annual appropriation greatly in excess of this amount, Dr. Way said that Dr. Thomas Fanning Wood, of Wilmington, was the father of the board. His mind in 1887 conceived the importance of such a board and for many years he was himself truly the board of health. Dr. Way stated that notwithstanding the small amount appropriated annually by the State for the health department the Board has been a leader of other States in many respects. He also spoke eulogistically of Dr. Lewis, the late head of the board of health who was elected to the highest office in the gift of the National body. Dr. Way thought the time near at hand when the Legislature of North Carolina and the people of the State would fully realize the beneficient work of the State Board of Health and make ample provision for extending the work to meet the needs of the State.

In concluding his interesting address Dr. Way said that the members of the society came not as strangers but as children coming to their father's house, as it were, and that it was a great privilege for all to be here not only on account of professional ties, but as citizens. Although he lives among the mountains of Western North Carolina, where many illustrious men have lived and died, Dr. Way said that he had always striven to teach his children and instill into their minds and hearts something of the patriotism of the people of the Cape Fear section, the patriotic deeds of Cornelius Harnett and many others. "Again, gentlemen, I thank you," said Dr. Way as he took his seat amidst the applause of the assemblage.

Dr. Thomas for the New Hanover Medical Society, extended in a few words the welcome of the local fraternity, after which he introduced the new president, Dr. Edward J. Wood, of Wilmington, one of the South's leading young physicians. In beginning his address, which is given in full in another column of today's paper, Dr. Wood officially announced with deep regret the death of Dr. Burroughs of Asheville, his predecessor in office, and then devoted the remainder of his message to a discussion of the society as it stands today and suggested a plan for reorganization. Dr. Wood's plan of re-organization was apparently well received by the society. It is certain that a majority of those in the hall shared his views and will give their support to any proposition looking to the abolition of the House of Delegates, which might be termed the political body of the society.

At the conclusion of the address of welcome Dr. Thomas announced that the Carolina Yacht Club had extended to the members the courtesies of their club house, and also made announcement of the trip down the Cape Fear river which will be taken Wednesday afternoon.

President Wood stated that owing to the fact that the speakers under the "Section of Gynaecology" and Section of Obstetrics" had not yet arrived, these papers would be passed over for the time being and the Section Materia Medica and Therapeutics," Dr. C. S. Grayson, of High Point, would be taken up first. Dr. Grayson read a carefully prepared and most interesting paper on "The Origin of the Prescription and the Financial Side of Prescribing." He was followed by Dr. K. r. B. Bonner, of Morehead City, who read a paper on "Old Versus New Therapy;" Dr. G. T. Sikes, of Grissom, on "Chloroform;" "Use of Drugs Before and After Surgical Operations," Dr. B. S. Moore, Charlotte;" "The Anesthetist a Specialist," Dr. C. O. Abernathy, Raleigh. There was a general discussion of all the papers. After Dr. Abernathy's paper adjournment was taken at 1 o'clock until 2:30 o'clock.

Night Session.

The session last night was set apart for memorial exercises in honor of the memory of the 30 physicians who have passed to the great beyond during the year. Many beautiful and touching tributes were paid to lives and character of some of the deceased members by those who were intimately acquainted with them during life. It was nearly 9 o'clock when the session convened with Dr. Edward J. Wood presiding and Dr. C. A. Julian, of Thomasville, chairman of the obituary committee, sitting on his right, while a large portrait of the late Dr. James Anthony Burroughs, of Asheville, formerly president of the society, was on a table, used as an easel, to the left of President Wood. It was an excellent likeness of the fine physician who passed away since the last meeting of the society. Dr. Julian submitted the report of the obituary committee. The following he reported as having died during the year: Dr. J. A. Burroughs, Asheville; Dr. J. H. Marsh, Fayetteville; Dr. W. J. Jones, Goldsboro; Dr. George Thrash, Jr., Candler; Dr. Paul A. Barrier, Mount Pleasant; Dr. L. Hussey, Warsaw; Dr. James McGuire, Mocksville; Dr. W. J. Trent, Cleveland county; Dr. H. H. Harris, Wake Forest; Dr. J. M. O'Kelly, Durham; Dr. Walter G. Curtis, Southport; Dr. A. T. Cotten, Raleigh; Dr. William H. Whitehead, Rocky Mount; Dr. J. F. Schaffner, Jr., Winston-Salem; Dr. J. C. Mills, Reidsville; Dr. C. S. Kerr, Kerr; Dr. H. W. McNatt, Maxton; Dr. J. P. Powell, Gresham, Ore., a native of this State; Dr. T. Bickett Twitty, Rutherfordton; Dr. Francis Duffy, Newbern.

One of the most beautiful tributes ever paid to any man was that paid to the life and character of Dr. James Anthony Burroughs, of Asheville, by his friend, Dr. J. Howell Way, of Waynesville. The paper read by Dr. Way was entitled. "Our Deceased President—James Anthony Burroughs, M. D.—An Appreciation."

Dr. Way was eloquent and he read his carefully prepared paper with a feeling that betokened his deep sincerity. He had known Dr. Burroughs for a long number of years and was closely associated with him. He was therefore well qualified to speak of him both as a man and professionally. Dr. Way's paper was generally commented on as being one of the best, if indeed, not the very best, ever heard in the society on a similar occasion.

Following the reading of the paper Dr. W. S. Rankin, of Raleigh, secretary of the State Board of Health, stated that he never heard a more beautiful tribute and that although he hac known Dr. Burroughs but two years he was satisfied that he deserved all and more than Dr. Way had said of him. As an illustration of the character of Dr. Burroughs, Dr. Rankin told of an incident that was related to him by an Asheville physician while on a visit to the mountains recently. He said that in this Dr. Burroughs left a legacy that would stick forever in his mind and he hoped that it would find equally as secure lodgment in the minds of those to whom he would then relate the story. Dr. Burroughs became largely interested in a cotton mill and persuaded his friends to take stock. The mill proved a financial failure and Dr. Burroughs set to work at once to buy all of the stock of his friends at par value and succeeded in buying up and paying all except the stock held by one woman. It was one of Dr. Burroughs last requests that out of whatever was left of his estate that she be paid par value for her stock. "Now, friends," said Dr. Rankin, "I will always remember that incident in the life of Dr. Burroughs. He was truly an honest man and 'an honest man is the noblest work of God'."

Dr. G. G. Thomas, of this city, spoke in glowing terms of the late Dr. William H. Whitehead, of Rocky Mount, whom he knew intimately and for whom he had a most high and tender regard.

Dr. Way then paid a tribute to the late William Henry Harrison Cobb, of Goldsboro, but no paper had been prepared and in concluding his remarks Dr. Way asked that the committee on resolutions incorporate in the publication of the proceedings an article setting forth at length some of the many noble qualities of the deceased.

Dr. E. G. Moore, of Elm City, truly an orator, spoke in burning words of eloquence of a number of those who have passed away during the year. Dr. Moore is a most pleasing and ornate speaker and the society would have gladly listened to him an hour or more.

Upon motion of Dr. Way the secretary was instructed to have the proceedings of the meeting published together with photographs of Dr. Burroughs and Dr. Cobb. The session adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Today will be one of the most important of the convention and some interesting discussions are likely to take place. At noon there will be held a conjoint session of the State Board of Health with the State Society. Dr. Watson S. Rankin is the secretary. This meeting is always one of the most important of the annual gathering of physicians.

As soon as the several meetings are concluded shortly after noon today the visitors and invited guests will board special suburban cars in front of the Tarrymoore Hotel and come to Wilmington for a trip down the historic Cape Fear river, returning late in the afternoon.

Misses Miller and Lamb, two attractive young ladies of Charlotte, are the official stenographers of the society.

State Board of Health Meets.

The State Board of Health, Dr. Geo. G. Thomas, of Wilmington, presiding, held an important meeting at the hotel last night and transacted a number of matters of business, chief among which was the election of Dr. J. E. Ashcraft, of Monroe, to fill the vacancy on the Board caused by the death of the late Dr. J. A. Burroughs, of Asheville.

Jefferson Alumni.

Last night in the dining room of the Hotel Tarrymoore, the Jefferson College Alumni Association of North Carolina gave a most delightful smoker, there being 25 or more physicians in attendance. Dr. Morris M. Caldwell, of Wilmington, was in charge of the arrangements, while Dr. E. B. Glenn, of Asheville, served most acceptably as toastmaster. Dr. Glenn is president of the State Association and Dr. Wm. P. Hood, of Duke, is secretary. There were a number of responses and a royal good time for all who attended the smoker.

Feet Tired—So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used." A. F. Dreutzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

ALMA KELLNER'S SLAYER.

Texas Authorities on Trail of Joseph Windling.

Houston, Texas, June 21.—Close on the trail of a man supposed to be Joseph Wendling, under indictment for the murder of Alma Kellner, at Louisville, Ky., Chief of Police Ellis, of Houston, and Chief of Detectives John H. Carney, of Louisville, are speeding across Texas tonight toward the Mexican frontier and an arrest is expected before morning.

The suspect has been working as a farm hand on a ranch and for several days has been under close surveillance.

It was given out tonight by Chief of Detectives Kessler, who has been working with Carney on the case, that Ellis and Carney are expected to return to Houston with their prisoner late tomorrow afternoon.

Ellis also admitted that the trail of the suspect was picked up through information furnished by a farm hand who claimed to have recognized a fellow employe as Wendling. The informant according to Ellis is positive of his identification and is now in Houston waiting to identify the prisoner when he is brought back.

MINNESOTA REPUBLICANS.

Endorsed Taft Administration and Roosevelt Policies.

St. Paul, Minn., June 21.—Endorsing the "wise, conciliatory" administration of President Taft, but laying on the table by an overwhelming vote a resolution "re-affirming our unalterable support of the policies promulgated by Theodore Roosevelt," the Minnesota State Republican Convention met today and nominated a full State ticket.

A full State ticket was nominated, including Gov. A. I. Eberhardt for re-election, by acclamation.

Senator Moses E. Clapp was unanimously nominated for re-election.

The "insurgent" element, led by Hugh T. Halbert, obtained the passage of a resolution in favor of the conservation of natural resources, along the lines "suggested by Theodore Roosevelt" but his efforts to get favorable action on a resolution endorsing "the other Roosevelt policies" and a resolution denouncing the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill as a "repudiation of the pledges of the Republican party to the American people" were overwhelmingly defeated.

HITCHCOCK CRITICISED.

Texas Congressman Refused Interview by Postmaster General.

Washington, June 21.—Sarcastic criticism of Postmaster General Hitchcock by Representative Slayden, of Texas, because of his alleged inability to obtain an interview with Mr. Hitchcock, called forth considerable applause on the Democratic side of the House today.

After telling of his futile attempt to see the Postmaster General last December on matters of importance to his Congressional district, Mr. Slayden said he had recently "smothered his indignation" and again had attempted to get an interview with "his excellency" in regard to the establishment of a mail route service which had been held in suspension. He had been finally told, he said, that he could see Mr. Hitchcock after the adjournment of Congress.

"It will be a long time after," said Mr. Slayden.

"I have had no difficulty in seeing the President," said Mr. Slayden, "and I have found him genial and courteous. But I have never been able to penetrate the barrier that surrounds the august person of the Postmaster General."

COMMISSION GOES ABROAD.

Sent by Manufacturers to Study Certain Conditions.

New York, June 21.—The National Association of Manufacturers is going to send a commission abroad to study conditions surrounding the prevention of accidents and industrial indemnity insurance. This was decided at a meeting of the executive committee of the association held here today.

The commission which will sail in July 14th, is composed of Frederick C. Schwedtman, chairman of the association's committee on Industrial Indemnity Insurance, and James A. Emery, general counsel of the National Council for Industrial Defense. Their investigation will extend over three or four months.

During the recent annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers, resolutions were adopted declaring the present system of determining employers' liability in this country to be "unsatisfactory, wasteful, slow in operation and antagonistic to harmonious relations between employers and wage workers."

It is with the hope of improving conditions that the commission was appointed.

SANDERS LOSES HIS SEAT.

Virginia Republican Given Place of Democrat in Congress.

Washington, June 21.—The House Committee on Elections No. 2 today voted to unseat Edward W. Sanders, (Democrat) of the fifth Virginia district and to give his seat in the House to J. M. Parsons, (Republican) who contested Sanders' election. This gives the Republicans two of Virginia's quota of ten Congressmen.

The committe voted by strictly partisan vote of 6 to 3 to unseat Mr. Sanders and seat the contestant, Mr. Parsons. The Democratic members of the committee will submit a minority report holding that Sanders is entitled to the seat. Saunders' majority, on the face of the returns, was 81.

The majority report contends that the district was "gerrymandered," by the Virginia re-districting law of 1908 by the taking of Floyd county out of the fifth district and placing it in the sixth district. Floyd county is normally Republican by about 12,000 majority and the committee held that the alleged "gerrymander" was a violation of the constitution of the State of Virginia as well as of the constitution of the United States.

Although the report will be submitted to the House before the adjournment of the present session, no vote may be had on it before next December.

FEARFUL STORM AT NORFOLK.

Caused Considerable Damage Yesterday—Pranks of Lightning.

Norfolk, Va., June 21.—A severe rain and wind storm of hurricane like velocity struck Norfolk late this afternoon and left considerable damage in its wake. The storm was accompanied by an unusually severe electric display.

Trees and telegraph poles were blown down all over the city. The mammoth wireless tower of the United Wireless Company on the Garrett building, was snapped off like it was a mere pipe stem. This tower was 350 feet high. Lightning struck the Norfolk & Western grain elevator but the damage was not serious. Trees were blown down all over the government reservation, and the entrance to the training station for enlisted men was blocked by uprooted trees.

Lightning struck the headquarters of the National Biscuit Company on Main street and bored a hole through the building from the roof to the cellar. Eight clerks in the building ran terror-stricken in all directions. The government sea coast wires were blown down by the storm.

Mrs. Grace Brown, residing at No. 18 Cornick street, had her infant in her arms when the wind tore the roof from over her head. Plastering and rafters fell all around her, and small particles struck her in the face.

ANTI-TYPHOID VACCINE.

Discovery Made by Prof. Vincent—Destroys Bacillus.

Paris, June 21.—Prof. Vincent tonight announced before the Academy of Medicine the discovery of an effective anti-typhoid vaccine, which he prepared by steeping typhoid baccilli in a weak solution of water and sodium chloride (common salt) with an admixture of ether.

Prof. Vincent made a number of experiments with animals which, after being vaccinated, withstood subsequent inoculation with typhoid germs. He also vaccinated 13 persons, an examination of whose blood, after the operation showed that it possessed to a high degree properties destructive of typhoid bacillus. Further experiments demonstrated the fact that typhoid baccilli when placed in contact with the serum of the blood taken from the person vaccinated, lost all vitality.

SAW MOTHER TAKE POISON.

Woman Killed Herself in Sensational Manner in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, June 21.—Soon after her 19-year-old son had left her, Mrs. Ellen C Eagle, committed suicide in a sensational manner today on a sidewalk in Media, Pa., near here. Accompanied by her son, Louis, Mrs. Eagle came here from her home in Lansdowne, Pa., on a trolley car. Alighting from the car Mrs. Eagle told the boy to go into a drug store and drink a soda water as the day was hot. As he turned his back Mrs. Eagle took a bottle containing the poison from her pocket and darined the contents. The son turned to say something to his mother and witnessed her act. She collapsed in his arms and died soon afterwards in a hospital. Mrs. Eagle's worry over the illness of one of her daughters is believed to have been her motive for suicide. Her husband is a prominent resident of Lansdowne.

Petersburg, Va., June 21.—At a meeting of A. P. Hill Camp, United Confederate Veterans held tonight 65 members stated they will make the trip to Springfield, Mass., where July 4th the gray will parade with the blue, during Springfield's celebration of the day. The A. P. Hill Camp, U. C. V., was recently invited by the E. H. Wilcox post G. A. R. of that city to participate in the celebration. It was believed until tonight that not more than 40 of the Petersburg Veterans could make the trip. They will leave for Springfield Friday of next week.

London, June 21.—Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of home affairs, gave a dinner tonight in honor of Wm. Jennings Bryan at the House of Commons. Chancellor Lloyd-George was among the guests.

ILLINOIS BRIBERY TRIALS.

Lawyers for Browne Abruptly Rested Case Yesterday.

Chicago, June 21.—Precluding the possibility of the defendant's going upon the stand in his own behalf, and shutting out all testimony that Senator William Lorimer might have to offer in denial of the charge that his seat in the United States Senate was purchased, lawyers for Lee O'Neil Browne abruptly rested their case in the criminal court here at noon today.

It is said that Browne's counsel believe that their case stands or falls on whether the jury is willing to accept the testimony of Representative Charles A. White, who made the charge that Browne, Democratic minority leader of the Illinois Legislature, gave him $1,000 to vote for Lorimer for Senator.

Although Mr. Wayman began his closing argument to the jury he had not finished when court adjourned for the day.

Mr. Wayman said in part: "Your verdict in this case will straighten out the Legislature of Illinois for 1,000 years. Your verdict will not only straighten out the Legislature of Illinois, but will straighten out the Legislature in every State in the Union.

"Murderers can go unpunished. Larceny is often excused by the law, and a man may go out at night and rob to feed a starving family, but there is no justification for bribery. It cannot go unpunished.

"The fact that over 50 Democrats voted for Senator Lorimer, a Republican, shows in itself that there was bribery. Representative White was thus bribed to elect a member to the only body in our Federal government that can declare war or effect peace for the millions of our population.

"Representative George W. Meyers was told to vote for Lorimer for there were 'plenty of State jobs and plenty of the ready necessary.' Meyers came into court and said that and he would not have said so if it were not true You can't make any different color out of White and Browne. They are both black and both are guilty.

"The only thing before you jurors is whether Browne paid White $850 in the Briggs House in Chicago.

"Browne paid $1,000 to Link and Beckemeyer in St. Louis, because it is no crime to do so there."

Immediately after the unexpected announcement that the defense rested its case, Attorney Forest moved on technical ground that the case be taken from the jury and a verdict of not guilty be returned. Judge McSurely refused the motion.

FIRE AT SALISBURY.

Destructive Blaze There Early Yesterday Morning.

Salisbury, N. C., June 21.—Fire of an unknown origin this morning at 2 o'clock burned to the ground the old plant of Swift & Company, located on the Asheville branch of the Southern Railway, near the passenger station, with all of its contents. The building was occupied by Thompson & Company and George R. Martin, for storage purposes. The exact damage is not known and it is uncertain as yet how much insurance was carried on the building.

Spreading from this structure the flames entirely destroyed two small dwellings, a barn owned by Mr. R. B. Thompson, and an old machine shop formerly occupied by Mr. Eugene Thompson. This building contained a quantity of machinery, all of which was destroyed. A low estimate on the total loss is between $10,000 and $12,000.

The Salisbury fire department did valiant work in saving adjoining property. This was the first time the city's new fire engine, recently purchased, has been used.

GAS ELECTRIC CARS

To Be Used by Southern Railway On More Congested Lines.

Atlanta, Ga., June 21.—Following the announcement made by the Southern Railway Company on May 31 that the use of gas-electric cars in some of the more congested districts along its lines was contemplated it is definitely announced by that company today that its steam passenger train service in the Greenville, S. C., territory is to be supplanted in July by the inauguration of regular gas-electric motor car service.

Pending the completion of three motor cars now being built for the Southern Railway Company, the management, determined not to delay the inauguration of the new service, has arranged with the General Electric Company for the return of the gas-electric car which was used experimentally with very satisfactory results last Summer on the line between Manassas and Strasbury, Va.

Gas-electric motor car service will be furnished in the Greenville territory by this car until the delivery of the two improved gas-electric cars, being built especially for the Southern Railway Company by the General Electric Company, and the gasoline car being constructed by the McKeen Motor Car Company, of Omaha, Neb. These cars will be completed in a few months and will be put into regular service as soon as delivered to the Southern Railway Company.

MURDERS IN GREENVILLE.

Two Occurred in Piedmont Town Yesterday Morning.

Greenville, S. C., June 21.—Two murders occurring within a few minutes of each other created intense excitement here early today. Peter Rowley, a well known citizen, was shot and killed at a disorderly house by O. L. Godfrey, a horse dealer from Spartanburg. According to the report to the police Rowley was refused admittance to the house, but later succeeded in gaining entrance and picked a quarrel with Godfrey, in which the latter is said to have shot in self defense.

The second killing occurred near the Southern Railway station when a negro named Bob Calhoun, shot and instantly killed another negro, Will Brown, in a fight over a woman.

Charleston, S. C. June 21.—Shortly before noon today a negro entered the small clothing store of Max Lubelsky on Upper King street, beat the merchant's head to a pulp with a piece of board and robbed his till of all the money in it. Lubelsky died two hours after the attack. The negro escaped but the detectives have a description of him and are hot upon his trail.

THE FINALS AT YALE.

Annual Baseball Game a Feature—Robert Taft Took High Honors.

New Haven, Conn., June 21.—With the annual ball game between Yale and Harvard as the principal feature of the day, the dinners of the re-union classes were the events of tonight During the day the annual meetings of alumni and the corporation were held and the scholarship honors were announced. A noticeable feature was the fact that the captains of the football team, baseball team, and crew were among the honor men. Among those accorded highest scholarship honors was Robert A. Taft, son of the President.

At the corporation meeting the acknowledgment of the receipt of $50,000 from Henry T. and William D. Sloan, of New York, in addition to the $450,000 already given by them for the erection and endowment of the Sloan laboratory was made.

TO CIVIL WAR SOLDIERS.

Vice President Delivered Address at Syracuse Unveiling.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 21.—The orator of the day at the unveiling here today of the monument to the soldiers of the Civil war was Vice President James Sherman.

As he looked upon the fresh granite and newly molded bronze of the impressive monument just unveiled, the Vice President pronounced it to be a fitting recognition of the passionate patriotism which held together the States of the Union.

"This is but one form of testimonial to the Boys in Blue," said the Vice President, "and its value and meaning are multiplied and intensified because there is not lacking other forms of expression of the people's gratitude to the Nation's preservers."

For the veterans still living, he pointed out that nearly half a hundred soldiers' homes offered care and comfort to nearly 40,000 maimed and infirm who have suffered from the wounds and hardships of war. A generous government with lavish hand had made provision, he said, to aid the living and help or succor the dear survivors of the hero dead by pensions.

RYAN WILL SAIL TODAY.

Well Known Financier Apparently in Good Health.

New York, June 21.—There are rumors of Thomas F. Ryan's health, but he didn't look like a sick man when seen on the street in the financial section today. "Take a good look at me," he said with a smile. "I am all right and my nerves are in good shape." As if to prove it the financier briskly ascended a stairway two steps at a time.

Mr. Ryan will sail for Europe tomorrow, but he denies that the condition of his health prompts the trip.

MEDICAL ORGANIZATION IN NORTH CAROLINA

One of the features of the opening of the 57th annual convention of the North Carolina Medical Society at Wrightsville Beach yesterday morning was the annual address of the president, Dr. Edward J. Wood, of this city, who had for the subject of his valuable paper, "Medical Organization in North Carolina; Its Possibilities." Dr. Wood is of the type of the younger and more progressive physicians of the State and his address was thought ful and advanced in its ideas and suggestions. He was given closest attention and the various recommendations embodied in his paper are expected to have an important bearing upon the proceedings at this annual assembly. In addressing the society, Dr. Wood said in part:

It is with much regret tnat I officially announce to you today the death of Dr. J. A. Burroughs, who was elected president of this society in Asheville a year ago. It is needless to say to you how much this faithful member will be missed. An hour will be set aside later when you will hear a memorial from one better fitted than I to pay the proper tribute to the memory of our departed friend.

Filling as I do the unexpired term of the presidency of this society, I propose to devote my address to the question of medical organization in North Carolina and to exert myself especially in behalf of the professional welfare of my own kind—the younger members who have joined the ranks during the past decade. It is to be hoped that nothing that would benefit them could injure any other member of the society. They are especially selected because they are largely distinguished for their absence from this and other meetings of the society, and because they need something done to stimulate their interest that they may be laying the foundation for the positions in the profession to which they must inevitably fall heir.

Of all the good that this society should do nothing can compare with its value as an educational factor in the professional lives of the younger members. I would do better if I waived my own rights and read to you that matchless essay of Osler's on the "Educational Value of the Medical Society," in which he says: "* * * the killing vice of the young doctor is intellectual laziness. He may have worked hard at college, but the years of probation have been his ruin. Without specific subjects on which to work he gets the newspaper or the novel habit and fritters his energy on useless literature. There is no greater test of a man's strength than to make him 'mark time' in the 'stand and wait' years. Habits of systematic reading are rare, and are becoming more rare, and five or ten years from his license, as practice begins to grow, may find the young doctor knowing less than he did when he started and without fixed educational purpose in life. Now is the time for the medical society to step in and prove his salvation." On the other hand the young man fresh from the fountain heads of medical knowledge should be made to feel the responsibility of sharing with the older men a familiarity with recent advance which their exacting professional duties otherwise would deny them. After all the most valued teacher of the younger man is the older man with whom he is most thrown professionally during the early days of his practice. This fact is too often overlooked by the older man who unconsciously sows the seed of professional carelessness and indifference which follows his pupil throughout life.

The only aim in our organization should be the following of methods best calculated to improve our skill as ministers to the sick. All of our forces should be in this direction and anything that weakens this effort should be given up. We have had too much politics. It has divided our interest and the result has lessened our usefulness to a considerable extent. There is already too much for us to do to keep abreast of the times in our strict professional work; we cannot afford to divide forces. The honor within the gift of this society should not be measured by the office accorded to a member but to the recognition of some really good work—some contribution to our knowledge. There is infinitely more honor and glory for one of us to discover a new remedy, a new operation, or to settle some etiological dispute than to hold all the offices within the gift of this society simultaneously.

I am told by our secretary that owing to the size of the surgical division and the large number of papers that the Surgical Section will meet separately in a hall to themselves. This marks a new advance in our work because it paves the way for the general adoption of the real section plan as is followed by the American Medical Association and which has proven so satisfactory. This plan removes from the meeting place all those except the ones interested and insures closer attention to the papers. There is great need for a more careful censorship of the papers. A poor article wastes time, and one that contains inaccuracies or errors does actual harm. Perhaps the best provision in our present plan of organization provides that all papers shall first be read at the meetings of the respective county societies, and those not so read, shall be turned over to the chairmen of the different sections and be critically passed on. When an essay is submitted to the secretary that has not been read, it should be acted upon at once by the Committee on Scientific Work which should make proper disposition of it. This committee is one of the most important in the society.

Prearranged discussion is an imperative necessity if we would realize the greatest benefit from our sessions. Debate brings out both the weak and strong points of any contribution, and is, therefore, one of our greatest safeguards against error. The writer of a paper should arrange for an open discussion of it, and should supply those whom he expects to take part in it with copies of the same, several weeks before the meeting, so that as much care shall be exercised in arranging for public expression of opinion concerning the work, as upon the work itself.

Seven years ago our society was reorganized at Hot Springs on the plan suggested by the American Medical Association, and admirably presented by the association's representative, Dr. J. N. McCormack. The society adopted the change with unanimity and enthusiasm. In many respects the new order of things has proved a success. This is well demonstrated in the effect on the county societies of which I shall speak later.

On the other hand, there is widespread dissatisfaction in many quarters of the State. The very absence from these meetings of many of the best and most honored of the profession whose non-appearance ten years ago was a thing unheard of, should be sufficient to arouse us to action with the hope that whatever the cause, it may be removed. This society can ill afford to dispense with those men; the younger of us need them for the professional attainments and ideals which they possess in a marked degree, and which are daily growing more rare.

Some will argue that these men are growing old and cannot be expected to manifest the same interest as in the past. Why should it be different from what it was ten years ago? The difference is with us. Their hearts beat in the same place, their interest in our progress is just as keen as when they traveled far and worked late to attend these sessions. They are not alone in this dissatisfaction; it has extended to all ages and it is keeping out of the society many of the more recent licentiates and causing many in the prime of professional activity to absent themselves. What is the cause? In most of the cases the answer is that they do not approve of our plan of action. The chief objection is in the abolition of the general ballot by the whole society. It is no new thing to find Americans objecting to the removal of their right to vote on any question which affects them. It seems unfair to them, and I may add to many of us present, that ten men should be instructed with the selection of the officers of this society. We all want a hand in it. With small expense of time all the elections could be done by the society as a whole and it would have a very desirable effect on many whom we have not seen here in a number of years.

Those in attendance on these meetings are divided into two parts: ordinary members and delegates. Oftentimes, there is not a great deal of difference in the size of the two bodies. As a result there has unconsciously arisen a distinction and the ordinary member feels rather out of it. As one of them expressed it; he felt that some secret deliberations were going on which he was not intended to know anything about. Having had an opportunity to attend several sessions of the House of Delegates I can with some show of authority question the wisdom of the existence of this body. The transactions show for themselves just what is done at these sessions. I have never heard any matter discussed or voted on by this body which, in my opinion, should not have been passed on by the whole society. Vital changes in our by-laws and constitution should be voted on by all who are expected to abide by them. Either the work done by the House of Delegates is of so trivial a nature that it does not justify the time given it by the hundred members, or else it is of such vast importance that not even this large body should pass on it without the society at large concurring. This general conference would consume as much time as though the matter had never been discussed or voted on by the delegates, which shows that the time-saving argument for that body is not tenable. Far better for a measure to be read in a general session and stand or fall for all time according to the will of the society as a whole.

Again: The House of Delegates by its very existence, defeats one of the greatest objects of the society; I refer to the consideration of scientific work. It was argued in the beginning that by relegating much of the actual work of the society to the delegates, that there would be more time for the uninterrupted consideration of various scientific and professional problems. Did it ever occur to you that the hundred delegates were deprived from attendance on many of these sessions by the performance of their official duties? Usually these men are equally interested in the scientific work, and their absence from the real meetings of the society detracts materially from the value of the conference both to themselves and to the society as a whole.

At the time of our re-organization the Board of Councillors served the society well, and we are beholden to them for many things. Today it is questioned whether their existence is necessary or even expedient. I know that in some districts they partake rather of the nature of a functionless organ, as councillor visitations are more the exception than the rule. Their important duty is to exercise censorship in the State society. We again come to a matter of vital importance. Is it not wiser for each county society to manage its own affairs—to adjust its own internal differences? Can the board of councillors know as much about our local conditions as we ourselves? I think not. Home rule in the society is a very necessary thing. There should be no appeal from the decision of the county society. Its dignity and importance will depend very largely on its power to adjust all professional differences in the community without assistance. The abolition of the Board of Councillors or the curtailing of their censorship would in no way lessen the bond between the various county societies nor, more important still, the bond with the parent State society. It should always be a requisite that membership in the State society must follow and be dependent on membership first in the county society.

For the sake of "Unity, Peace and Concord" can we not go back to a general rule of the society where all members will have an equal voice in the control of our affairs? It could be done at small expense of time and to the great good of this society because it would give undivided ranks for true scientific work. It would also bring to these meetings some of the flower of the profession who will never take part with us under the present plan of government.

If the re-organization has done nothing more than to arouse interest in the county societies it has well served its purpose. The future of the profession of North Carolina is in the hands of these societies. Their possibilities for good are almost limitless. Mutual contact with one another in an informal manner does much to stimulate us to greater activity. Wherever four or five physicians can get together a post-graduate school of wonderful usefulness can be started. Where will you find so effective a board of health as a conference of three or four country doctors? It is only reasonable to suppose that they will very soon be able to trace the source of the typhoid in their neighborhood and, better still, remove the cause. These three or four men hold the key to the situation over an area oftentimes from ten to twenty miles square and it is hardly possible that any infectious disease could escape them. They should pride themselves with their ability to cope with a smallpox situation or a scarlet fever outbreak. They should be so bound together by bonds of good fellowship that the attendant on a case of scarlet fever can be relieved of his obstetrical work until the danger of infection is over. There is always in such a group a young man who has had the advantage of a recent medical education. In exchange for the advice usually so gladly given by the older man whose ripe practical expreience is of such value to the young doctor, the latter should avail himself of the privilege to reciprocate. He should do his part in the clinical laboratory for his associates who have not had the advantage of the necessary training for this work which has only recently been added to the medical curriculum. Even if trained for it the older man has little time to spare from his exacting duties while the young man has more of it than anything else. Even in the most remote districts there is no reason why the sputum should not be examined for tubercle bacilli, swabs from suspicious throats, blood for malaria parisites and the widal reaction, as well as the various chemical tests so essential to accurate work. If there is a lack of suitable equipment the society could make no better investment than to provide it. To quote again from the essay mentioned above Osler says: "But I hear it sometimes said you cannot expect the general practitioner, particularly in country districts, to use the microscope and the stethoscope—there are refinements of diagnosis. They are not. They are essential means which can be used and should be used by every intelligent practitioner. In our antiquated system of teaching we send our graduates out wholly unprepared to make a rational diagnosis, but a man who is in earnest—as thank Heaven most young men in the profession today are in earenst—can supply the defect in his education by careful study of his cases. A room fitted as a small laboratory, with necessary chemicals and a microscope, will prove a better investment than a static machine or a new fangled air pressure spray apparatus."

Those of us living in country districts where our patients are separated by great distances, can only see a limited number of cases daily. Thereby we are seriously handicapped by our city brethren who have the opportunity of seeing a hundred cases to our one owing to hospital facilities which are open to the humblest member of the profession who has a clear head and a willing hand. Even in our towns where there are hospitals our lay friends are prone to overlook the fact that the greatest function of a hospital is in its educational value to the medical profession. Every case in the wards of any of our public hospitals should serve a double purpose; the relief of the sufferer should, of course, be paramount but each case should be a small clinic to a number of men, thereby making it possible for one entry on the hospital register to directly benefit a large number of sufferers. It is a well known fact that a teaching hospital always does the greater good to the individual cases. The study of a case rather than being a persecution to the patient is the best safeguard to accurate diagnosis and treatment. Having so limited a number of cases we must make the most of what we have and our study rather than being less exhaustive than the city man's should be all the more so. As near as possible our one case should furnish us with the knowledge which comes to the more fortunate from contact with fifty like cases. One of our most valuable assets in the future will be carefully preserved records of our cases. My own experience is that this is best done on uniform cards of a card index system because the cards can always be kept on hand in the pocket and notes can be made at the time at the bedside. Later these cards are filed and notes added from time to time. Again these cards can be carried to the meetings of the county society and shared with all the members. Many of our more unusual cases should be carried to the meetings of the society thereby often furnishing to the members present just as valuable a clinic as could be had on the same subject in New York or Baltimore.

One of the greatest drawbacks to a professional life in the country is the want of a suitable reference library. Four or five members of a live county society could easily remedy this want by joining forces. Suppose instead of five members each subscribing to one journal that the society subscribe to one journal for each member and elect a librarian. These few journals in a few years would form a valuable reference library. For example, the bound volumes of the Journal of the American Medical Association provide almost a complete review of medical progress of the current year. A county society library is entitled to many privileges: the catalogue of the Surgeon General's Library may be had postage free for the asking. This catalogue contains every medical title of every age and every language. It is now up to volume XIV. Your librarian would have the privilege of securing for you a two weeks' loan subject to renewal, any volume you might wish and the only expense attached is the cost of carriage. In addition to this very great privilege—great enough to justify the existence of any library—such a library can secure without expense the valuable reports of the U. S. Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, the Reports of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and the reports of the various boards of health. The Association of American Medical Librarians are always on the lookout to help struggling libraries, supplying them at small cost with duplicates or suggesting some other effective plan whereby a useful library may be had without years of waiting.

A regular meeting place is almost essential for the success of our county society. It may be the library and the custom would soon be established for the doctors to congregate here where the atmosphere of professional dignity can be much better maintained than at the corner drug store.

The members, or certainly a portion of them, should adopt some system of study which to be effectual must be systematic. Such a plan has been admirably mapped out by the American Medical Association which can be modified to suit individual needs. In addition to this, or in place of it one of the most fertile sources of help is in the journal club plan. Let each member select one journal which he reads carefully and abstracts each article on a small card or a card index system. These cards are read at the meetings and filed by subject. This file has the advantage of being an index to the literature of the current year for which no other index can be secured until the completion of the year. Of course, the greatest value in such a plan is to the one who makes the index. It trains him in conciseness and teaches him the art of selecting the essential from the non-essential, and trains him in that valuable art of rapid, careful reading.

Formerly it was deemed always necessary to take our patients to the great cities to insure their receiving the most skilled specialist's care. It is a great satisfaction to know that this day is nearly over. The public as well as the profession are beginning to learn that it is the man and not the place. Skilled help can be had in practically every small town throughout the country and many of our villages are receiving patients from the neighboring cities. Emerson said, "If a man build a better mouse trap, or preach a better sermon than his neighbor, even though he build his house in the woods, the world will find him out, and wear a beaten path to his door." The Mayos, by their wonderful achievement have been largely responsible in bringing about this new order of things. This very change is daily increasing our responsibility and calling forth the necessity for skilled training along special lines. It s the day of exact knowledge and in no line of endeavor is this so true as in our profession, which is so rapidly being transformed into an exact science. The day of speculation is over. We can no longer hide behind an uncertain state of knowledge. The division of labor is much more practicable even in our smaller towns. It is impossible for a surgeon to keep abreast of the times in his own work and also in internal medicine. Certainly medicine is making such strides that a thoroughly posted physician who carefully studies his cases nas no opportunity for skilful surgery and there is no longer any occasion for it. Here is where reciprocity and close contact among the members of the profession are of the greatest importance. It has been demonstrated that it is feasible for a man who has the skill to successfully specialize in medicine, in surgery and in a number of other branches even in North Carolina.

If the units of this society, the county societies, are purged of all uncleanness and properly developed the result on the parent body would be that it would remain clean and healthy without any great effort. There is no reason why the profession in North Carolina should not be perfectly organized. A house divided against itself cannot stand; we need to stand shoulder to shoulder in the fight

MOST CORDIAL WELCOME TO N. C. MEDICAL SOCIETY

A most cordial, enthusiastic and happy welcome was extended to the North Carolina Medical Society at its opening session yesterday morning in the assembly hall of the Hotel Tarrymoore, Wrightsville Beach, by Hon. John D. Bellamy, ex-Congressman from the Sixth Judicial District and perhaps Wilmington's best known practicing attorney. Mr. Bellamy was exceedingly happy in his words of greeting to the visiting doctors and their friends and he said in part:

Mr. President and Gentlemen:

That our city and its suburban resort should have been selected as the meeting place of the North Carolina Medical Association for this session, is a source of great gratification to our people, and your coming has been eagerly looked forward to as an important event.

For no city in North Carolina has been more signally honored by your association in the recognition which you have given her distinguished physicians, in the numerous instances you have selected them as presidents of your society and bestowed upon them other high offices. And no city in our State has profited more from the successful efforts you have made as a society in promoting the cause of and demonstrating the necessity for systematic sanitation and by heeding the valuable suggestions for the prevention and cure of disease.

We honor you for the number of distinguished men you have given to our State and Nation, for among all professions none stand more conspicuous for patriotism and higher citizenship than do the true physicians of North Carolina.

At one time the physician was regarded as a man without versatility and only fit for the narrow sphere of the sick room and the hospital, but this idea has long since been dispelled, for we now find them among the leaders in finance and legislation, and prominent in the councils of the Army and Navy.

You may recall what dissatisfaction the press of the country and the absolute hostility the officers of the army exhibited toward the president when Dr. Leonard Wood was made a Major General in the army and put in command of the American forces during the Spanish war, and yet history will record that greater reforms were instituted and more good was conferred on the army, and the American name, and more good to the cause of humanity generally, accrued from that appointment and the splendid administration of his office, than from any predecessor who filled that position within nearly half a century. General Wood's administration in Cuba, and his work in encouraging and aiding in the discovery of the cause and prevention of yellow fever, has not only made him immortal in Cuba, but he has made the world a debtor throughout all ages to his constructive genius, and his successful triumphs in the amelioration of the condition of the human race.

The people of Wilmington have another reason for showing a deep interest in the medical fraternity. Many of you are not unmindful of the fact that three times at least in the history of our city the dreadful pestilence and scourge raged through our homes and the hand of affliction was laid heavily upon us. As many of the population fled from the doom as were able to leave. But there stood at their posts of duty the blessed physicians, with the fidelity of the Roman sentinel, ministering to the afflicted and serving humanity without reward or the hope of reward, many sacrificing their lives, and thus as a class have endeared their names and their deeds deep in the hearts of a grateful posterity.

To have the privilege of entertaining the members of the North Carolina Medical Association is an honor which our people greatly appreciate. You have come among a people who take a pride therefore in your great State organization, as they take a pride in everything that pertains to the honor and glory of North Carolina. Pardon me, if I do say, that you are among a people who rejoice in all the present triumphs of their State and fondly treasure its past history and traditions possibly more than any other section of our commonwealth. And why should we not be filled with State pride? It will not be inappropriate, and perhaps information for many, to say to you, that standing here within a radius of a few miles there were enacted many of the scenes which made this great Republic possible, and which have reflected imperishable honor and glory on North Carolina and the Nation.

The open resistance of the Stamp Act and the famous battle of Moore's Creek were the greatest factors in the furtherance of the cause of the Revolution—but greater still were the deeds of that galaxy of patriots, born and reared on this soil, nurtured by the liberty-giving breezes of yon ocean and inhaling the balsamic odor of the pine, who were the mainsprings of those movements. They still stand pre-eminent among the great men of this State. There was Robert Howe, Major General of the American army, who was an orator, Statesman and soldier, still stands easily North Carolina's greatest man, having no peer. And the names of Cornelius Harnett, John Ashe, Alexander Lillington and James Moore will ever shed lustre on the annals of this State.

But we invite you to remember that this section bore no inconspicuous part in the War of Secession. It was Wilmington, which through blockade running almost wholly sustained the Confederacy the last year of its existence, and almost in sight of this hall, stand the mute mounds of historic Fort Fisher, which was the scene of the severest bombardment that ever took place in the world's history, with the possible exception of the siege of Port Arthur in the Japanese-Russian war. And on yonder shore, which you can plainly discern through the mists, spending the evening of his life, lived and died the noble, able and chivalrous commander of the Confederate steamer "Florida," Captain John Newland Maffitt, who with Admiral Semmes, shares the honor of having been the great lights of the Confederate navy. These scenes and these reminiscences we invite you to enjoy.

We have been told that in the scope of its work and in the character and standard of its membership that no State Medical Association in the Union stands higher than your own.

It is natural then, Mr. President, that our people take a pride in the North Carolina Medical Society.

I believe it was Sir Astley Cooper, a member of your great profession, who said that his profession was a science founded on conjecture and improved by murder. I have always thought Sir Astley was too blunt in this descriptive definition. It is true that to probe for the occult and to diagnose for the unseen is conjectural, yet it does not take away from your profession the elements of science which calls forth the highest display of human foresight and reason.

For in this age so great is the complexity of life, that it brings, it is said, in its train a "constantly growing complexity of diseases," and to obtain a complete mastery over these—to prevent, yea, to cure—is I conceive the great work and mission of the modern physician. But to be a true physician Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes has truly said that he must be one who is subservient to duty. Duty first to your patient, then next to yourself. To be otherwise, to owe your first duty to yourself and then to your patient, you would be a quack. And therein lies the essential difference between the two.

Now, Mr. President, to return. You are engaged indeed in a great work. May your efforts to further the high aims of your profession be eminently successful in all your deliberations here. May temperance, purity and zeal still continue to be the watchwords of your society.

The people of Wilmington with one accord wish you God-speed in your work and extend to you a warm welcome to their hearts and their homes.

We hope your sojourn will be attended with good health and great happiness, and your session be a memorable one in your annals.

Again Wrightsville Beach and Wilmington heartily welcome you.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF THE THIRD NORTH CAROLINA CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

Dear Sirs:—

I take this method of announcing myself a candidate for Congress subject to the will of the next Democratic Convention of this district.

Should I receive the nomination at your hands, I pledge you an active, intelligent and successful canvass of the entire district upon the vital issues of Democracy as contained in your convention platform and shall, with pleasure, champion the cause of the people, now burdened with unjust Republican high protective tariff taxes and hostile class legislation, which are robbing the people of their honest earnings.

As agriculture is the chief wealth-producing industry of this district, which largely underlies the progress of all other industries and the general financial welfare of the people of most all the States as well, it should be fostered and encouraged, rather than taxed and hindered by National legislation.

Deeper inland waterways are greatly needed to facilitate shipping by providing competition in transportation, as well as correcting discrimination in freight rates in this State.

Drainage of river and swamp lands should also meet the hearty approval of Congress as North Carolina has for years paid large taxes in the United States Treasury, in fact larger than twelve of these Western and Northwestern States, where large Federal pensions are annually paid, and where their dry arid lands are now being irrigated by large Federal appropriations. If these dry lands of the Northwest and West are to be wet by Congressional appropriations, then the wet lands of the South should likewise be drained.

If chosen your representative such legislation shall receive my closest attention. Belonging to a profession, that keeps in close touch with the people of all classes, which has also given freely and unselfishly, its best efforts to the State and to the Democratic party, and from Duplin county, the oldest in the district, which has so long and so continuously given such large Democratic majorities to this district, without due recognition, while many other counties have been and are enjoying the honors of office, I shall thank you for your support and gratefully appreciate your efforts in my behalf.

Yours most truly,

JOHN M. FAISON,

Faison, N. C.

against disease, ignorance, and death with rank unweakened by any internal envy, hatred or malice. Think of the oportunities this society has in the State for good. There is no other body of men on whom so much depends and on whose neglect of duty and opportunity so much evil may result. There is not, nor will there ever be, a Legislature in North Carolina whose members will not, every one, be directly under the influence of some member of the profession who is or ought to be a member of this society. Suppose we are a harmonious whole unselfishly interested in the public good, think of the result.

It would mean that the most creditable and useful property of the State, the State Board of Health, would be more generally appreciated. It would be hard to estimate just the extent of the benefit both to the profession and to the public of this work, and especially of the well managed Hygiene Laboratory. The recent addition of the work on eradication of the Uncinariasis should have the enthusiastic support not only of the whole profession but also of our Legislature. Surely North Carolina can show to the world that they are appreciative of the philanthropy of Mr. Rockefeller, even though some of our supposed intelligent citizens to their own shame have resented what they see fit to consider an interference.

It would mean that medical education in the State would be considered more seriously; that it would be recognized by the lawmakers, that it takes more than the Board of Medical Examiners to protect the public from dangerously ignorant doctors. The report of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching tells some startling things, probably better known outside the State than by us who should consider ourselves, in a measure at least, responsible for the existence of the evils recorded. It seems that the public as well as the Legislature would look to us for advice on all matters pertaining to the prevention of disease with the full assurance that the advice will not only be gladly given but that the motive of inspiring it will be unselfishness.

So let us stand together "in honor preferring one another" that the complaint so often made by the thoughtful public about the discord among doctors will be forgotten and we may by our very attitude of usefulness further every movement that has for its object the amelioration of the suffering of our fellow man.

DR. JOHN M. FAISON FOR CONGRESS.

We, the Democracy of Duplin county, knowing the character, ability, fitness and loyal party service of our countryman, Dr. John M. Faison, take great pleasure in presenting his name to the Democratic voters of this Third Congressional District as a worthy, able and most excellent candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the next Congressional convention.

Dr. Faison was born in Sampson county, near Faison, in 1862, his family returning to Duplin four years later. He attended school at the Faison Academy and worked on the farm in his early years, graduated at Davidson College, in 1883, and received his Medical education at the University of Virginia, taking a post graduate course at the New York Polyclinic. Since he has practiced medicine and surgery with skilled success, has been engaged in trucking and farming, and at the same time taken an active interest in all public affairs about him for the advancement and progress of his county, State and people. In 1892, when Populism began he became a leading Democrat in this county and section of the State, and since then no man in the county and district has done more arduous and successful work for Democracy, giving freely of his time, energy, intellect and means to the success of the party in county, district and State. Dr. Faison has always been "in the thickest of the fight"—"in the trenches with the boys"—battling against the enemy without fear or favor and without even the hope of reward. When the State was in the hands of the fusionists in '94 to '98, he was selected a member of the State Executive Committee, of this district in '98, opposed any fusion on the part of Democrats, and took an active and determined part in redeeming the State, district and county from fusion rule and also in the passage of the Suffrage Amendment in 1900.

Reared an ardent Democrat, Dr. Faison has ever been ready "to defend the faith that is in him" and has "stood guard" in the county and district, willingly and gladly crossing swords with Republicans whenever and wherever opportunity presented.

Dr. Faison is a Christian gentleman of character and ability, well versed in State and National political issues, a forceful, eloquent speaker and an able, successful, convincing campaigner and debater. Should the nomination come to him he will measure up fully to every obligation, make an active, vigorous, brilliant campaign of the entire district and an able, useful representative of the Democratic people.

Duplin county, the oldest county in this district, has had but little recognition for its long-time, large Democratic majorities and is justly entitled to ths nomination, especially when other counties of this district—Craven, Jones, Carteret, Onslow and Wayne—have been for years and now are so signally honored with State and National offices. Other things being equal, the other counties of this district should justly share, as it is only fair and Democratic, in the honors and emoluments of office.

Dr. Faison's profession has so freely and constantly given its best efforts to the State and Democratic party and has been always such a power for Democratic government that it richly deserves such recognition from the party.

As a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee for years, as member of the North Carolina Jamestown Centennial Exposition Commission, and as chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of Duplin county, Dr. Faison has always "made good" displaying wise judgment, good common sense and excellent discretion. As the Standard Bearer of the Democracy of this district he will make a brilliant campaign and an able representative, and will reflect honor upon his State and district. Duplin Democrats who know him best, will present his name to the coming convention and trust that their county and their candidate will receive the nomination for their long, faithful and active services to their party.

DUPLIN'S DEMOCRACY.

Free Sample Helps Weak Women

So many of the ills of women are due to constipation that too much warning cannot be given them to keep the bowels well open. They have a modesty and timidity about this that is positively dangerous to their health. It is a function that is as necessary as air and food and should not be avoided.

But it is important to know the remedy best suited to woman's needs. Cathartic pills and tablets are too powerful and salts and purgative waters are both powerful and nauseating. What is wanted is something milder and better tasting, but which at the same time is promptly effective. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin fills these requirements and is being taken by thousands of intelligent American women. They not only use it themselves, but having found it effective in their own case, they keep it in the house for other members of the family, for we are all called upon at some time or other to use such a remedy.

It is a safe and reliable laxative tonic and can be conveniently obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Before buying a bottle of your druggist the doctor invites you to make a test of it at his expense, and when you are satisfied it is what you want you can buy it in the regular way, just as thousands are doing. So, if you will send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell he will send you a sample bottle free of charge.

Thousands of people owe the present good health of their families to applying for a free sample bottle, for in this way they learned of an effective and inexpensive cure for constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and troubles of that kind that come from a disordered stomach, liver or bowels. The family of Harry T. Recker, 208 W. Monroe street, Chicago, are among the legions who highly praise this grand laxative and are glad to publicly say so.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.525 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

ILLUSTRATORS' WOES.

Errors That Were Pointed Out by Unfeeling Editors.

"Now, what do you think of that?" asked the youthful illustrator ruefully as he tossed his comrade a letter. It was from an editor, and its mandate was stern. It said:

"Dear Sir—Permit me to call your attention to the importance of reading a story before attempting to illustrate it. I am aware that the modern artist does not observe this rule, but it is imperative in this office. If you will examine the text of the story sent you for illustration you will learn that the army officer mentioned is said to have taken his fishing reel out of his haversack, and you have made a picture showing this officer—who, by the way, is a brigadier general—with a knapsack strapped to his back. A knapsack, my dear sir, is not a haversack. Furthermore, no army officer ever carried a knapsack or ever will carry one. If the general should see your drawing he would be insulted. Will you please acquaint yourself thoroughly with the appearance of a haversack, correct your drawing and return it to this office at the earliest possible date?"

"Just think of having to know all such details!" exclaimed the artist wrathfully.

"That's nothing," his studio comrade responded consolingly. "I made an awful break once. I painted a picture to illustrate a story in which a widow got married, and I depicted the bride in a long white veil. Of course I thought the drawing was a beauty and a wonder, and I was ecstatic over the way I had handled that effect in white. Imagine how crushed I was to have the editor—by the way, she was a woman—smile witheringly and tell me that no widow ever wore a veil when being remarried. How was I to know that? I have never been a widow."—New York Press.

Tennyson's Critic.

The poet Tennyson was in the habit of receiving a large number of requests for his autograph. As a rule, he did not reply. But one day he was much impressed by the letter of the young daughter of a country gentleman, and he sent her not only his autograph, but an original quatrain. The girl was naturally delighted. Her father, however, did not allow her to thank the poet, but assumed that responsibility himself. He sent the following letter:

"Dear Sir—I have shown your verses to the schoolmaster. He finds that the tails of the g's and the upper part of the h's are very irregular and that you also forgot to cross your t's. Aside from that, I thank you for your effort."—Bookman.

"I shall never speak to her again."

"What's the matter?"

"I showed her a hat in a store window that I wanted and"—

"Well?"

"The mean thing went downtown next day and bought one just like it for herself."—Detroit Free Press.

In the deevlopment of North Carolina's industries, the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts is taking a foremost part. Its students are giving their lives to improving our farming, our trucking, our dairying and stock raising. They are rapidly making their way into our factories, our electric power houses, and our shops. They are helping to build our roads, our bridges, and our railroads. Indeed, they are just the men needed at this stage in the State's growth. We are glad to note that more young men than ever before are seeking, through this well-equipped institution, a place in our industrial progress. We call attention to the advertisement in this issue.

A NEW YEAR CONTEST

By ADELAIDE RUTH HILL.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

"The New Year day" of old New York—and it was then a great function with the Dutch men and Dutch women of that town—was at hand. It was in a transition state. The simple visits of the inhabitants, where they made few calls and spent plenty of time drinking schnapps at each call, were passing out with the growth of the place, and already some of the fashionable young men were beginning to boast of the number of visits they would make.

Miss Kate Van Gaasback was then the belle of the town, and two of the city "bloods," Derrick Schermerhorn and Beekman Van Corlaer, were aspirants for her hand. A few evenings before the 1st of January they happened to meet in Miss Van Gaasback's parlor, each hoping for a favorable answer to his suit.

"I desire," said the lady, "for a husband one who will join with me in a successful society career. You two each take a notebook with you when you call on New Year's day and have every lady you call upon enter her name in it. Begin calling at 10 o'clock in the morning, ending your rounds here at 5 in the evening. He who can show the largest number of signatures shall have preference over the other."

Now, it was not that the lady had no preference. She had a very strong preference for Derrick Schermerhorn. But at times a woman moves like a crab, backward—that is, when she is expected to go forward she proceeds in the opposite direction. This, however, will be recognized at the end of the story. At 10 o'clock on New Year's morning the two suitors, dressed in the height of the then fashion and each with a big bouquet in his buttonhole, started to make the rounds of their lady friends. Derrick, who from the fact that his father was a rich brewer was popular, had been able to make the larger list. Beekman relized this and had great fears that his own list would be exhausted before the limit of time had elapsed. However, he could do only what he could and accept defeat, if it came, like a man.

The first call Derrick made was on Miss Van Horn. After a few remarks he was bowing himself out when the lady reminded him that it was not complimentary that he should hurry and he must have some refreshment. He waited half an hour for the refreshment to be served, then, after partaking of it, got away as soon as possible. At his second call the lady insisted on reading to him from her favorite book, and he found it impossible to leave her under three-quarters of an hour. Even then she reproached him. The third call was made with a similar delay. After this came a number of visits which were completed with dispatch. And so passed the day. About one in three of those he called on delayed him.

Now, it happened that about 4 o'clock in the afternoon the two suitors met at the house of Vanderpole Ten Eyck, a manufacturer of calico, in King street. There were a number of girls in the party, and they had heard that a contest was on between the young men as to who would make the most calls. A bevy surrounded each of the contestants, tesing him to reveal his score. Both refused. Then one of the girls snatched Beekman's notebook from his pocket and ran away with it. Having examined it, she sang out:

"Thirty-two calls!"

This was sad news to Derrick, who knew that he had made only twenty-eight. It was half past 4, and even if Beekman made no more visits Derrick must make five more to beat him. He started to go, but the mischievous girls locked the front door. But a rear door was open, and he plunged through it, followed closely by his opponent. This door led through a passageway uniting the dwelling with the print works. The two men rushed through this passageway and found themselves moving on a raised platform on either side of which, their upper edges rising some twelve inches above it, were dye vats. A brilliant idea occurred to Derrick. Lessening his pace, he permitted Beekman to overtake him and gave him a push. Beekman's heels caught against the projection of a dye vat, and he fell into it, catching with his hands either side of the vat. Then he pulled himself out, dripping with a beautiful yellow dye.

Derrick shot out of a door at the other end of the building at the same time that the pursuing girls entered the dye house. A merry shout of laughter sounded to poor Beekman like a funeral knell. At any rate, he knew he had lost the race and the prize. He stood surveying himself, scraping the thick dyestuff off one hand with the other, and vice versa, till Mrs. Ten Eyck took pity on him and led him away to a place where he could get off his clothes and put on a suit of her son's.

Derrick Schermerhorn got in five more visits and mounted the stoop of the Van Gaasback dwelling as the clock struck 5.

"I've won!" he cried.

"How many?" asked Kate, with quick breath.

"Twenty-nine."

"Do you know how many Mr. Van Corlaer has made?"

"Twenty-eight at half past 4, but he won't make any more."

"Why?"

"I pushed him into a dye vat."

There was a double cause for her laughter. She had pledged all her girl friends to delay Derrick, who, after all, had won the victory she wished him to win.

Come to Greensboro!

THERE is not another state in the Union with a more enviable reputation as a health resort than North Carolina. The only Keeley Institute in North Carolina is at Greensboro. I am free to admit that this advantage of location is partly responsible for the remarkable success of the Institute.

You see—in addition to being the only Keeley Institute in North Carolina, its location in Greensboro is ideal in every way. The institute is made up of a fine old estate with large, shady trees and broad lawns that take up an entire city block; the buildings having been added to from time to time as our growth demanded it. And as the buildings have expanded our equipment and methods of management have kept pace with our growth. And this, I think, is the other big reason for our success.

Every modern medical apparatus that would hasten the recovery of our patients has been added without regard to expense. Such luxuries, for instance, as Electric, Vapor and Shower Baths and Massage are provided to add to our patients' comfort. The cuisine is the delicious home-cooking of the South. If desired, rooms may be had en suite with private bath. In fact, nothing has been overlooked to make the patient's stay a pleasant one. We have a sympathetic understanding of your case that puts you at your ease from the first moment.

There is no humiliation, inconvenience or publicity about the treatment. Your stay could scarcely be more enjoyable if you were on a Summer vacation.

Our booklets tell you all the facts. Write me personally. Make it as frank as you like for every letter you send us is treated with the utmost confidence.

Warning.

"No, Alice," counsels the fond mamma; "you should not marry Mr. Leftover. If you do you will regret it."

"Why, mamma? Because he is a widower?"

"Not exactly. But he will not make a good husband."

"Why, mamma! Everybody knows that while his wife was alive he was a shining model for all the other husbands in town. He never drank, smoked or swore; he never stayed out late at night; he never danced with any one but her. He was simply perfect."

"I know, my child. And I want to tell you that a man who has been held down that way during his first marriage will know how to dodge such rules the second time."—Life.

"Gladys," reprimanded her stern father, "I am shocked! I actually saw you kiss that tall young man with the long hair."

"Well, papa, he's an author," spoke up Miss Gladys with a pout.

"And what has that to do with it?"

"Why, papa, didn't you say with your own lips that young authors should be encouraged?"—Chicago News.

COTTON MARKET MORE ACTIVE

Showed Continued Strength With Prices at Gain of 5 to 8 Points—Old Crop Positions Led the Advance—Features.

New York, June 21.—The cotton market was a little more active today and showed continued strength with prices closing at a net gain of 5 to 8 points as a result of covering and some fresh buying based upon the strong old crop situation and the less favorable view of new corp conditions as a result of further rain in the eastern belt and very dry weather in the West.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 9 points in response to firmer Liverpool cables, and covering by recent sellers. There seemed to be some cotton for sale on a scale up but offerings were not heavy enough to check the advance, as selling for short account was restricted by an unfavorable view of the weather map and expectation of a bullish weekly weather report.

Old crop positions led the advance although most of the bullish news circulating was with reference to the new crop outlook and foreign houses were large buyers of July and August presumably to cover straddles. The weekly report published at midday proved no more bullish than anticipated but the market during the afternoon reached the highest level of the day on a continued demand from old crop shorts and rumors of heavy rains in Georgia. Last prices were within 2 to 3 points of the best. While Liverpool futures were better than due, the English spot sales were very small, and a private cable from Bavaria stated that there was little spot demand, and dry goods trade was depressed. Liverpool houses were credited with buying over 25,000 bales of July and August here during the morning. Numerous crop complaints are being received claiming damage from drought in the Southwest and too much rain in the Eastern belt, while the forecast was for very dry weather in the West and further showers in the East. Southern spot markets unchanged to 3-8c net higher. Private reports from Texas say that the first new bale is expected this week.

Receipts at the ports today 4,342 bales against 4,825 last week and 3,037 last year; for the week 25,000 bales against 24,531 last week and 33,830 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 874 bales against 686 last year, and at Houston 239 bales against 333 last year.

Spot closed dull 15 points higher, middling uplands 15.30; middling gulf 15.55; sales 1,037 bales.

Scared Into Sound Health.

Mr. B. F. Kelly, Springfield, Ill., writes: "A year ago I began to be troubled with my kidneys and bladder, which grew worse until I became alarmed at my condition. I suffered also with dull heavy headaches and the action of my bladder was annoying and painful. I read of Foley's Kidney Pills and after taking them a few weeks the headaches left me, the action of my bladder was again normal, and I was free of all distress." Robt. R. Bellamy.

A Woman's Great Idea

is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion, good health. Try them. 50c. at Robert R. Bellamy's.

STOCK MARKET DULL AGAIN

Dealings Dropped Back Near the Point of Idleness Yesterday— Wheat Situation a Feature—Effect of Government Report.

New York, June 21.—Apathy overcame the stock market again today and the dealings dropped back to near the point of idleness. There was a diversion of speculative activity to the wheat market and the reports circulated in that market of damage to the Spring wheat crop were not heard without solicitude in the stock market. The considerable rise in prices at the close yesterday after the almost inert market for a long time past, prompted to some profit taking sales on the part of the professional element. The results summed up were a dull and drooping market.

The refusal of the stock market to take great alarm over the Spring wheat situation was due partly to the moderation with which the subject was touched in the weekly bulletin of the government bureau which announced that "the hot dry weather of the week was very trying to vegetation already deficient in vitality on account of previous adverse weather conditions in Wisconsin, Minnesota and the eastern portion of the Dakotas and Northern Colorado.

The fact that the wheat market ignored this official review and sent prices upward in response to returns of sustained high temperatures in the threatened regions did not prevent a show of resistence to depression in the stock market and a tendency towards recovery from such declines as were suffered. These were only slightly more pronounced in the Spring wheat grangers than in the general list.

A sustaining influence in the stock market is the easing tendency of money markets.

The $22,500,000 equipment trusts of the New York Central lines which were offered in New York today are to be offered in foreign markets at the same time.

The bond department of the stock exchange remains flat, but a tone of slight encouragement over the prospect may be heard amongst some of the outside bond dealers.

Attention was attracted by the announcement that a cut in prices by a leading New England cotton mill interest was to be followed on July 1st by an advance in the same products, thus intimating a period to the concessions. The cotton market reported buying for foreign account and this may have been an influence in the foreign exchange market.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $1,148,000. United States 3s coupon advanced 1-4 per cent. in the bid price on call. Total sales for the day 315,600 shares.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, June 21.—Temperatures of 100 and 110 degrees, dust clouds preventing sight twenty rods ahead and total absence of rain—that was a picture today of the drought-stricken wheat country to the northwest. Such at least was the belief of the great majority of traders on 'Change here. A whirlwind market resulted, and the highest prices of the session were made near the close. Final quotations show a net advance of 2 3-4 to 7-8 to 3 3-8 to 3 1-2 as compared with last night's figures. Corn finished 1-2 to 5-8 to 5-8 to 3-4 up and oats were 1 to 1 5-8. COTTON MARKET NERVOUS.

Trade Awaiting the Outcome of the July-August Affair.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, June 21.—As usual with local markets ours is very nervous and moves quickly on the demand or supply of the moment. General business is very light the trade is waiting the outcome of the July-August affair and on any activity the small accumulated short interest buys to cover. The holders of old crop are confident and hold the entire market in consequence. The feeling is moderately bullish, some reports of hot winds giving reason for the demand of the afternoon.

SWEEPING INVESTIGATION.

Urged by Stenley in Resolution to Congress.

Washington, June 20.—A wholesale investigation to ascertain whether the government has prosecuted all violations of the anti-trust, inter-State commerce and banking laws, especially directed at the United States Steel Corporation, is provided for in a resolution introduced tonight by Representative Stenley, of Kentucky. The measure proposes the creation of a committee of nine members of Congress, elective by ballot of the House, to investigate whether, since 1897, there have been violations of the laws mentioned where the government has not instituted proceedings. The committee which is authorized to sit during recess and directed to report to the House is to investigate the steel corporation, its organization and operations and any affiliations, tending toward such violations with the Pennsylvania Steel Company, Cambria Steel Company and other steel concerns nominally independent, Pennsylvania or other railroads, trust and insurance companies, etc., or permit manipulation of stock, excessive capitalization, etc. The resolution was referred to committee.

NEGRO BURNED TO STAKE.

Charged With Killing Young White Woman in Texas.

Rusk, Texas, June 20.—Leonard Johnson, a negro, charged with having killed Miss Maud Redding, a young woman near here today was burned at the stake by a mob near the scene of the crime late last night.

Detroit, Mich., June 20.—In accordance with a promise made during his recent visit here, President Taft at Washington tonight pushed a button for the opening of Detroit's industrial exposition. When the signal came over the wires, thousands of incandescent lights strung along the river front, sprang into illumination. Nearly every factory, locomotive and steamboat whistle in the city and along the river tooted for two minutes, and every church bell rang.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 20.—Dennis Reed, aged 25, a boarder in the home of J. J. Flowers was accidentally shot and killed by Mrs. Flowers at her residence today. Mrs. Flowers was talking to Reed and said she intended getting a gun to kill some chickens. When she returned with the weapon, Reed threw up his hands in a jesting manner, saying "I am not guilty."

Her Little Bluff.

"Ethel," said Lionel Bertram Jones as he dropped his slice of bread in the plate with a noise that set the canary in the gilt cage overhead chirping merrily—"Ethel, I have something to say to you."

They had been married only four weeks, and the time had not arrived when she did all the saying.

"Do you remember the day on which I proposed to you?"

"Yes," she replied. "I will never forget it."

"Do you remember," he went on as he abstractedly drilled a hole in the loaf with the point of a carving knife, "how when I rang the bell you came to the door with your fingers sticky with dough and said you thought it was your little brother who wanted to get in?"

"Yes."

"Oh, Ethel! How could you? How could you?"

"How could I what?" she responded as a guilty look crept into her face.

"How could you make me the victim of such a swindle?"

Signal Flags.

Signaling by flags, as the term is now universally understood, was invented in the year 1854 by Surgeon Myer of the United States army. Before Surgeon Myer's invention the only flag signaling was by color; but, realizing the inadequacy of such a mode of conveying information, Dr. Myer studied out the system of "wigwagging," or talking, by making motions with the flag, a sort of deaf and dumb telegraphy, which has since been adopted by pretty nearly all the nations of the world.—New York American.

HORSE THIEF AND INCENDIARY

Gus Perry Wanted at Raleigh Captured at Goldsboro—Hail in Wake. Episcopal Conference—Pardons by Governor.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 21.—The fiend who burned the barn of B. Hobgood near Garner Sunday night, along with four fine mules and other contents valued at $2,000 or more, to cover the theft of a fine driving horse and buggy that he stole from the barn, was captured last evening at Goldsboro with the horse and buggy and brought here today. He gives his name as Gus Perry.

He was first located near Wilson and traced by Wilson's Mill and Selma. In the meantime a reward of $50 was offered by Governor Kitchin to supplement the reward offered by Hobgood and the arrest soon followed. The man refuses to talk.

Crops in a stretch of country a mile wide and three miles long, 15 miles south of Raleigh, were destroyed last afternoon by a heavy hail storm, the stones accumulating on the ground in many places to the depth of three inches. Among the farmers who lost heaviest were W. H. Hobby, J. A. P. Jones and B. B. Johnson.

The conference of clergy and laity of the Episcopal church in North and South Carolina opened this morning at St. Mary's School for a four days' session, continuing through Friday. This conference is a decided innovation for the two Carolinas and for St. Mary's School, the parochial college for women. It is the idea of Rev. Geo. W. Lay, rector of St. Mary's and the presence of fully 100 of the ministers and the laity of the two states attests the wisdom of the movement.

The conference opened this morning with morning prayers. Then followed an address by Bishop Kinsman, of Delaware on "The Religious Forces of Germany." Another address by the Bishop at noon was on "The Influence of Calvinism." It is of interest to note in this connection that the subjects of other addresses to be delivered during the conference will be "Recent Developments in Latin and Greek Communions," "Anglicanism"; "Anglican Conservation and Anglican Progressiveness"; "The Principle of Orders"; "The Strength and Limitations of Protestantism"; "The Religious Problem of America."

There was an address this morning by Rev. R. W. Patton, secretary of the Fourth Missionary department of the general church, on "Our Debt to the Missionary." This afternoon Rev. Edmund N. Joyner, former archdeacon of the colored convocation in South Carolina, and Rev. Henry B. Delany, archdeacon of the colored diocese of North Carolina, addressed the conference on "The Church's Duty to the Negro." Two notable features of the conference for Thursday and Friday are to be an address by Dr. Patton Thursday on "The Church and Civic Liberty," and by Hon. J. C. Buxton, Thursday on "The Laymen's Work," Mr. Buxton being chairman of this department of church work in this State.

Governor Kitchin granted today three pardons and one commutation of sentence. The pardons are conditioned on good behavior. Ike Williams, serving three years from Iredell for second degree burglary, is pardoned because he is simple-minded and broke into the house of a woman who had enticed him away from home. Arthur Freeman, serving eaght years for murder, is pardoned on recommendation of the jury, judge and solicitor because the sentence was too severe, the prisoner having killed another boy at the age of 14 in a fight about some turkeys. Monroe Gunter, serving 12 months in Edgecombe, for selling liquor, is pardoned at the request of the local authorities who prosecuted, on the ground that six months that he has served is sufficient punishment. The commutation is for William Waddell, Cumberland county, who has served three years of a five year sentence for larceny in Cumberland county. The commutation is to four years. He stole a mule and the prosecutor now asks commutation on the ground that the prisoner is weak-minded and not wholly responsible for his acts.

Commissions were issued today by Adjutant General of the National Guard to R. B. Cowell as captain; B. B. Ross as first, and C. W. McDevett, as second lieutenant, Company G., second infantry, Washington, N. C. Capt. Cowell succeeds Capt. Simmons, resigned.

Charters were issued today for the Church of God and Saints of Christ (Inc.), Southern Pines, for establishing a church there, and for the F. S Duffy Medicine Co., of Newbern, capital $15,000 by F. S. Duffy and others of Newbern and Fayetteville.

The Corporation Commission is notified by officials of the Southern Railway that a contract is just awarded for a $1,600 passenger station for Skyland, station between Asheville and Hendersonville. This is in compliance with an order by the commission after petition by the people of the section.

The members of the Corporation Commission have gone to Shelby to hear a petition for a new Seaboard Air Line passenger station there. They go then to Waynesville to hear petitioners who are demanding better equipment for the Murphy Branch of the Southern Railway.

BIG CAGE OF "TIGERS."

Thirteen Apprehended at North Henderson and Seven Carried to Jail.

Henderson, June 20.—The crop of blind tigers arrested Saturday in North Wilkesboro, and convicted, amounted to thirteen. Seven of them are in jail today, unable to give bond, and six furnished bail till Superior Court meets.

The community sympathizes greatly with Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Smith in the loss of their little daughter, who died Saturday evening.

A Summer cold if neglected, is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season. Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Honey and Tar promptly. It loosens the cough, soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, and expels the cold from the system. Robt R. Bellamy.

TUBERCULOSIS FIGHT.

Anxious to Extend Propaganda in This State.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 18.—The publicity and propaganda committee of the Tuberculosis Exhibition held in this city in co-operation with the State Board of Health are desirous of working with the tuberculosis fighters over the State, particularly in the region tributary to Winston-Salem. Printed matter which will call attention to the exhibition and the campaign, which is going on in the State at the present time and which tells the important facts about tuberculosis which everyone in North Carolina ought to know, will be supplied for use by those local committees where they have arranged for payment of postage or express charges.

If the committees will work up a "day of talk" or other special features such as are being planned in this city, the printed matter for the same will be supplied.

The county tuberculosis societies and health departments of the women's clubs are invited to form special campaign committees to stir up matters while the exhibition is on at Winston-Salem. Instructions for such committees will be supplied upon application by mail to the Tuberculosis Exhibit in this city. Correspondence may be directed merely to the Exhibition and will be delivered promptly.

DEATH AT ABBOTTSBURG.

Mr. C. Frank Thompson Passes Away After Long and Useful Career.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Abbottsburg, N. C., June 19.—Many friends in this section and throughout the State will learn with deep regret and sorrow of the death of Mr. C. Frank Thompson, which occurred at his home at this place Friday, at 11:30 A. M., after an illness of five weeks. He had been in declining health for the past four years, but had been confined to his room only five weeks. His death was not unexpected, but still it came as a sad blow to all.

Mr. Thompson was 62 years of age, and joined the Shady Grove Baptist church when he was 15 years of age, and of which he has been a faithful member ever since. He was a faithful worker for the Lord.

Mr. Thompson has always lived at this place and has hundreds of friends throughout the State who will be shocked and saddened to learn of his death. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, Z. G. and A. B. Thompson, and three sisters, Mrs. C. W. Callahan, Mrs. W. J. Burks, and Miss Mary Thompson, all of this place.

The remains were tenderly laid to rest Saturday, at the Shady Grove Baptist Church cemetery, by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives. The bereaved ones have the tenderest sympathy of the entire community in their great loss.

ANOTHER CONVICT KILLED.

White Man Serving Term for Abduction Shot while Attempting Escape.

(News and Observer.)

News was received at the State's Prison yesterday of the killing of Henry Holland, a white convict, at Chafin's camp building Saturday. The prisoner was from Greene county and was convicted of abduction and elopement and sentenced to serve three years. He tried to make his escape Saturday and was shot and killed in the attempt.

Chafin's camp is on the road that is being built from Elizabethtown to St. Paul's. The prisoner attempted to escape by swimming the Cape Fear river.

EXPLOSION AT FREMONT.

Saw Mill and Electric Plant Sent Up Thirty Feet Into the Air.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Fremont, June 20.—The saw mill plant and electric light plant owned by Mr. W. B. Floais exploded and went about thirty feet into the air. The electric light plant and also the saw mill plant are total wrecks. Mr. W. Floais was seriously injured; he is terribly scalded, and it is feared he will die. Lonnie Simmons, one of the colored employes, is also terribly scalded, but it is thought that he will recover. The loss is estimated at about $15,000. The plant will be replaced, but it will require about sixty days to do it.

GUARDS SHOOT CONVICTS.

Two Fatally Wounded—They Were Making An Effort to Escape.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Winston-Salem, June 24.—Garfield Hutchins and Lindsay Huffman, two white convicts, in attempting to escape from the county roads this morning, were shot by the guards. Hutchins was brought to the hospital and he is not expected to live through the night. Huffman's injuries are not serious.
